Andrew Groff

Andrew Groff[5] (M) was born on 18 Apr 1793 in , Lancaster Co., Pennsylvania,[6] died on 11 May 1877 in Waterloo Twp., Waterloo Region, Ontario, Canada,[7] at age 84, and was buried in Martin Meeting House Cemetery, Waterloo City, Waterloo Region, Ontario, Canada.[8] Another name for Andrew was Andreas Groff.

Andrew Groff, "son of John and Anna (Moyer) Graff, was born in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, April 18th, 1793. His boyhood days were spent in acquiring a business education which proved of great benefit to him in later years. At the age of seventeen he made choice of the milling business as the most pleasing to his taste. His first years of apprenticeship were served in Earl Township where he remained until 1822 when he was induced by others to seek his fortune either in the West or in Canada. Being persuaded by one Joseph Mosser and others who were on the point of leaving for Canada, to join in with their company, he came to Waterloo in the fall of 1822 and found everything most satisfactory. As he was a miller by trade, old Abraham Erb wanted him to take charge of his grist mills which he intended to do after moving to Canada. After being here a short time and making arrangements to move to Canada he started again for Pennsylvania. Arriving at home in safety and spending a few weeks in visiting friends, he then set out for his new home. He left Pennsylvania with his wife and family of four children and made the trip to Canada in seventeen days. On his arrival at Waterloo in November, 1822, he was engaged by Abraham Erb to work on the saw mill where he remained three weeks, after which he entered the employ of Mr. Shade of Galt where he remained for nearly two years, and acquired a considerable amount of cash. He then purchased 200 acres of land half way between Preston and Galt and in a few years he was the proprietor of a store, tavern, grist mill, saw mill, and distillery, from all of which he soon realized quite a fortune, becoming one of the wealthiest men in the county. In 1848 he sold this property and purchased the farm of the late David Erb, north of the town of Waterloo, now in possession of his son Jacob. During the close of his life he lived on the place now possessed by Mr. F. Scheifle, a little to the north of the town of Waterloo. Here he died May 11th, 1877. He was married in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, in 1815, to Annie, daughter of Samuel and Elizabeth (Reist) Huber. She was born October 15th, 1795, and died in Waterloo County, Ontario, September 19th, 1865. They had a family of twelve children."

SAMUEL GROFF. PRESIDENT NORTH WEST BUTTON CO.

Mr. Samuel Groff, though not a native born Berliner, still is a son of the fine old County of which Berlin is the chief town. He comes of Pennsylvania German stock. His grand father was Andrew Groff who learned the trade of Miller in his home state-Pennsylvania. In 1822 he came to Waterloo and after a few years spent there and at Galt, he acquired a large tract of land near Preston, where he carried on farming, saw-milling, a grist mill, store, hotel and distillery and became one of the wealthiest men in the county. His eldest son, Isaac, was the father of the subject of this sketch, who was born near Freeport in 1847. He early entered mercantile life in the late J. Hoffman's store and was one of the earlier merchants in Berlin. He was head of the firm Groff and Hymmen for many years, a house that was among the largest in the county. Several years ago, he went to Winnipeg and at present he is president of the North West Button Co.2[a]

The name of Groff in Waterloo in the nineteenth century was associated with the raising of Shorthorn cattle.

Andrew Groff of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, settled in 1822 on 170 acres at the location of the Galt Country Club. He later owned a grist mill, general store, tavern and a distillery. In the 1840s the family moved to Waterloo where his sons and grandsons, with outstanding success, bred and raised Shorthorn cattle.

A Knight of Warlaby, imported from Scotland, proved to be an outstanding sire. A son, A Baron of Waterloo," in 1882 was Grand Champion at the leading Canadian show at Kingston. In 1886 he was champion at Guelph. He was then sold to the Hon. George Brown. This bull sired what was probably the best show herd in Canada, winning awards on the American and Canadian show circuits. The Groffs were justifiably proud of their reputation as Shorthorn breeders.

Joseph Wayne "Wayne" Snyder (M) was born on 19 Jun 1909 in , Ontario, Canada,[158] died on 2 Apr 1996, at age 86, and was buried in First Mennonite Cemetery, Kitchener, Waterloo Region, Ontario, Canada.

JOSEPH WAYNE SNYDER 1909 - 1996

Wayne was born June 19, 1909, a son of Jacob B. Snyder and Angeline (Groff) Snyder. He grew up on the family farm (present site of St. Daniel's Church, Ottawa and Franklin Sts., Kitchener) along with five sisters, Beulah Olive, Seleda, Cora and Eileen.

On June 27, 1934, he married Olive Martin. They raised five children, Jean (husband-Ronald Gimbel; Carol Anne (husband - Ronald Hunt); Marion, Bruce (wife Helen); and Marjorie. Wayne will be missed by all, including his grandchildren, Joyce, Lois, Sandra, Susan, Wendy, Carolyn, Laurie, Jon-Paul, Tim, Beth, Johnathan, Daniel, and great-grandchildren, Jennifer, Kimberley Melanie, Christopher, Jonathan, Rebecca, Kieran, James Sean, Meaghan, Sarah and Chloe.

Wayne operated the family farm for many years. The mixed farming operation included a herd of Jersey dairy cattle. He was a hard worker and took pride in running a successful farm operation. He was active in various agricultural associations.After retiring from active farming he attended the Thursday auction at the Stockyards in North Waterloo and this continued to be part of his weekly routine until about five years ago.

Wayne and Olive sold the farm and moved to Rosemount Drive in Kitchener in 1968. He drove a delivery truck for an auto supply company and worked at Canadian Tire. Then, in 1986, when Olive's health was failing, they moved to an apartment at Fairview. They celebrated 55 years of happy married life together before Olive died in 1990.

Wayne was a lifelong member of the Stirling Ave. Mennonite Church and faithfully attended and participated in many church activities. Together with Olive, they did a lot of visiting shut-ins, and volunteering at the M.C.C. Relief Sale. Wayne was also involved in the work of the House of Friendship and Waters Mennonite Church at Sudbury.

Music was important in the home and Wayne's bass voice added to many sing-songs around the piano at family gatherings. In later years, he sang in the Festival of Male Voice Praise choir of Hamilton and he choir at Fairview Mennonite Home. He really enjoyed attending the Scottish Festival at Fergus and listening to the bagpipes playing.

He took up the hobby of rug-hooking in his retirement years and created many colourful mats and wall hangings. Wayne and Olive enjoyed the beauty of God's creation and took many trips across Canada and the U.S. A trip through the Muskoka area of Ontario during the fall colour season was an annual event for them.

We are thankful for Wayne's long life and for his devotion to God and family.

FRIED & SON.

A short walk west of the village brought me to the fine two-hundred- acre stock farm of the above well known firm. I was induced to visit this place by the flattering reports of the large herd of splendid thoroughbred and grade Durham cattle kept and bred there and the numerous prizes awarded them in the face of competition with some of the leading thorough bred stock breeders in this country and the United States. Mr. Fried lives on the old homestead, where he was born, and has lived ever since. His son, Allen, lives on the adjoining farm formerly owned by the late Joseph Evans, once an old and familiar character in this neighborhood. The late Samuel Fried, father of the subject of this sketch, was born in Bucks County, Pa, Aug. 5, 1804. In March, 1825, he, in company with others, walked to Canada, the trip requiring thirteen days. He settled on a farm near Blair, which is now a part of the old Wilkes' estate. He removed, however, in a few years, to Blenheim township, Oxford county, and settled on the farm now occupied by the son, and where he died, Nov. 3, 1876. The old barn is still in a good state of preservation. I am informed from reliable authority that it is the oldest bank barn in Blenheim township. It was erected during the dark days of the rebellion in 1837 and a thrilling incident is connected with its construction. One of the workmen put up a small American flag upon the comb of the frame. It was an act that meant trouble for the perpetrator, but it suddenly and mysteriously disappeared when several British officers came in search of the objectionable emblem.

Messrs. Fried & Son have been in the cattle breeding business for quite a number of years, and there are none in Ontario who have been more successful. For an admirer of splendid specimens of the bovine family, it is a delightful and instructive pastime to visit their stables. While they have a large number, and not an inferior one in the lot, I will merely allow space to mention several of their specialties and prize winners:

Blenheim Cherry (21,756) calved Jan. 5th, 1892, on the Fried farm, is a mountain of hide and tallow, weighing nearly 2,100 pounds. She was the winner of the prize at the Provincial Fat Stock Show at Brantford, and 1st prize at the Oxford F. S. S., Ingersoll, 1897.

Oxford Rose (2,826), a most superb animal. She was easily awarded 1st prize at the Guelph Fat Stock Show as a two-year-old heifer, and Jubilee Sweepstakes, 1897. She tips the beam at 1,800 pounds.

Roan Lilly, a remarkably handsome creature was the winner of first prize at the Provincial Fat Stock Show, Brantford, 1897, and 1st prize at the Oxford Fat Stock Show, Ingersoll, 1897.

Snow Flake, pure white, and as perfect in shape and form as an animal could be, is going on two years. She weighs 1,500 pounds, and carried off 1st prize at the Provincial F. S. S, Brantford, 1897, and 1st prize at the Oxford Fat Stock Show, Ingersoll, 1897. She has thirteen 1st prizes to her credit. Carry, also a perfect beauty, won 2nd prize as a calf at the Guelph F.S.S, 1897.

Look Me Over won 1st prize as a two year-old grade steer at the Provincial Fat Stock Show, Brantford, 1897, and as a best steer, any age, and first Special Challenge Cup at Ingersoll, 1897. This animal weighed 1,900, and at Brantford the Champion Fat Steer of the United States was beaten by him.

That Mr. Fried is thoroughly experienced in feeding for the market, there is ample proof in the rapid increase in flesh made by "Look-Me-Over." His weight on Jan. 1st was 1,030 pounds, and by the following December he had gained 870 pounds.

Honest Billy, a prize winner from the ground up, won first premium at the Provincial Fat Stock Show, as a calf under one year old, and first prize at Oxford, I.S.S., Ingersoll, 1897, as a year-old. Weight, 1,200 pounds.

Were I to take the space to describe properly each animal, in the large herd of grades and thoroughbreds now being fed and cared for at the three barns of Messrs. Fried & Son, it would monopolize the entire edition of The CHRONICLE On the lower farm occupied by the son Allen, is a herd well worth the time to go and see. One thing in particular that attracted my attention on this occasion was the stable of splendid large horses in the finest condition. Nine cases out of ten where the breeding of thorough bred cattle is the leading feature, you will find the neglected horse stable sadly neglected.

William Allan "Allan" Fried[206] (M) was born on 16 Aug 1864 in Blenheim Twp., Oxford Co., Ontario, Canada,[212] died on 28 Apr 1920 in Blenheim Twp., Oxford Co., Ontario, Canada,[213] at age 55, and was buried on 2 May 1920 in Roseville Mennonite Cemetery [Formerly Detweiller], Roseville, Waterloo, ON, Canada.[214] The cause of his death was typhoid fever.[215] Another name for William was Allan Fried.

Death of Prominent Farmer

Mr. Allan Fried Succumbs to Typhoid Fever

We are sorry to report the death of one of our most prominent farmers, Mr. Allan Fried, who died on Wednesday night, after a short illness, in his 57th year. The late Mr. Fried had not been in the best of health lately but still able to be up and around until last Friday night when he took very ill, and when the doctor was summoned he pronounced it typhoid fever. He became delirious the same night and remained so intermittently until death came to his relief. He was married to Rachael Gehman about 31 years ago. To them were born eight children, all of whom survive: Ephriam, Mrs. Wilfred Wanner, Mrs. Melville Veitch, Ralph, Russel, Clayton, Cleo, and Ethel, at home; besides these he leaves to mourn their loss his aged parents, three sisters and one brother. He was a member of the Evangelical Church here and has been a prominent man in this community. He has been a successful exhibitor of cattle and horses at fall fairs for many years. The funeral was held at his late residence on Sunday afternoon, thence to the Evangelical Church for service, thence to the cemetery, and was largely attended. The four sons and two sons-in-law acted as pallbearers. In his death the family loses a kind husband and loving father. The community extends its sincere sympathy to the bereaved widow and family.

FRIED, Howard, 1917-2009 - Howard Allan Fried, in his 92nd year, went to be with his Lord on Tuesday, June 9th, 2009, at St. Mary's Hospital, Kitchener. Beloved husband of Elva (Diefenbacher) for almost 64 years. Much loved father of Yvonne Fried and Wayne Kurt of Baden and Stephen and Chris Fried of Australia. Special grandfather (Papa) to Katie and Maggie Fried. Dear brother of Jack (Doris) Fried and Ruth (John) Brown all of Ayr and special brother-in-law of Ruth Diefenbacher of Kitchener. Uncle to many nieces and nephews. Howard was predeceased by his parents, Ephraim and Edna (Bricker) Fried; sisters, Gladys (Henry) Innanen, Jean (Carl) Schiedel; brothers, Donald, Walter and brother-in-law, Nyle Diefenbacher. Howard and Elva farmed outside of New Dundee on Queen Street their entire lives and successfully developed "Spruce Acres Holsteins" to prominence. Howard's commitment to hard work and keen livestock management skills resulted in the development of many high production and show-winning cattle. Spruce Acres cattle achieved many Superior and Lifetime Production awards and Star Brood Cow certificates over the years. Spruce Acres bred Holsteins were exported to many countries including the UK, Italy, France, Mexico and the United States and continue to have a positive influence on the Holstein breed in these countries today. During his career, Howard purchased a number of high profile cattle and further developed them to success through selective breeding and sound management practices. An active member of the Waterloo Holstein Breeders Club, Howard earned the respect of his peers for his success in developing his Holstein herd to the highest level of achievement possible. His gentle nature and sense of humour will be missed by all who knew him. Howard was a committed and supportive member of the Wilmot Centre Missionary Church for over sixty years. Visitation will be held at the Mark Jutzi Funeral Home, 291 Huron Street, New Hamburg on Saturday from 7-9 p.m. and Sunday from 2-4 and 7-9 p.m. The funeral service will be held at the Wilmot Centre Missionary Church on Monday, June 15, 2009 at 2 p.m. followed immediately by the burial at the Wilmot Centre Cemetery. Wellesley couple rescue grandfather and child from canal

Scott Miller Cressman Independent staff

A peaceful day at the cottage became an opportunity to save a life for Ralph and Sandra Bean. The Wellesley-area couple was walking along the canal near their Lakefield, Ont. cottage last August. They've strolled that route many times before, but this day they and friend Margaret Ondrovcik of Chatham, Ont. heard a small, panicked voice calling for help. A grandfather and two children had been biking along the water when the three-year-old girl tumbled over the cement edge and into the 12-foot-deep canal.

The grandfather quickly jumped in to save her. But he couldn't swim and they were stuck in the deep water with no ladder or handholds for them to escape back to safety. The little boy, still on dry land, was calling for help. The Beans and Ondrovcik were the only people nearby and they sprang into action, Sandra said. "We just went to sit down and this little boy started screaming that they were in the water… We just ran, there was no hesitation." Ralph crawled down on his stomach to reach over the cement and grab the grandfather's hand. Marg held onto Ralph's legs so the 73-year-old wouldn't be pulled in too, while Sandra dialed 911.

It was probably only a few minutes before police and another helpful citizen arrived, but the entire episode was a blur. "It felt like an eternity," said Sandra, who is 68. "When you're in it, it feels like forever. "It's an emotional thing. It still seams surreal.""

The Beans don't want to think about what might have happened if they weren't close enough to hear the cries. The Beans aren't strong swimmers themselves, but still rushed forward to lend a hand to the family in distress. "Once I got a hold of his arms, then I could relax," Ralph remembered. He kept a firm grip on the floundering pair until police arrived to pull them out of the water.

The three rescuers '97 along with other civilian first responders '97 were recognized May 14 with an award at a Peterborough police appreciation ceremony hosted by the Knights of Columbus. The Beans were surprised by the honour, many months after the rescue. They credit their quick instincts, honed through raising their own children, for helping them move fast in an emergency. The grandfather was a real hero in this story, Sandra said. He jumped in first to keep his granddaughter from drowning, despite his age and lack of swimming skills. "We consider him the hero," she said. So many different things went right to make sure the pair escaped unharmed, she added. "You know, that little girl never screamed or flailed or anything. She just put her arms around her grandfather and trussted him."

The girl went to hospital for a check-up, but no one suffered any notable injuries. The family lives nearby and the Beans soon saw them again, pedaling beside the Lakefield canal later that afternoon. The two families have met again on many other days since. "We've had enough accolades. We're just so thankful when they go by," Sandra said. She and Ralph know this story could have had a much different ending. "We were right where we were supposed to bbe," she said.

Murray Fried

Murray Fried, a lifelong resident of Kitchener, devoted his life to working with youth. Fried began coaching ice hockey in the early 1950s and in 1959 started the first Atom hockey team in Kitchener, later known as the Bauer Krauts which gained fame across North America for its competitive play and good sportsmanship. Fried coached the team for twenty-one years and managed the team for nine years, encompassing 2,020 games and winning 79 tournaments, Ontario Minor Hockey Association and league championships. Currently he keeps track of 600 Kraut Alumni members.

In 1975 he received a Life Membership in Kitchener Minor Hockey Association and in 1976 Fried was selected Waterloo Region Sports Executive of the Year. In 1984 he received twenty-five year Service Awards from the Kitchener Minor Hockey Association and the Ontario Hockey Association.

Fried was also a member of the Scouting Movement for over thirty-five years, including being a Cub and Scout Leader at the 11th Kitchener for twenty years. He was awarded a thirty-five year service pin, the "Medal of Merit", and the "Bar to the Medal of Merit" for outstanding service to Scouting.

Fried also coached boy's softball beginning in the 1950s and started Kitchener's first Squirt Softball team in 1967. He started Kitchener Minor Softball in 1969 and he was their founding President. He coached the Kitchener Bantams to an Ontario Championship in 1970.

In 1996 Fried received the Sertoma Club "Service to Mankind Award" for significant and meritorious service to mankind. He was also a founder of the Don Hayes Hockey School; he serves on the Parade of History executive at the Kitchener Memorial Auditorium; and he was a member of other sports and Scouting committees.

His working career in plastics spanned fifty years and he was awarded a Half Century Citation by the Plastic Pioneers of Canada.

Pueblito, the beneficiary of an $85,000 legacy donation

We recently received the wonderful news that the late Murray Russell Fried, a long time supporter of Pueblito's work, requested in his Last Will and Testament that $85,000 be given to Pueblito. His generosity and kindness have provided hope for young children in poor and marginalized regions of Latin America. We are truly grateful to Mr. Fried for his generosity.

Legacy donations are an important part of our overall fundraising objectives. We ask you to please remember the work of Pueblito in your last will and testament.

Richard Schiedel

Business founder dies of injuries from crash Richard Schiedel was 'visionary'
by Brent Davis, Record staff

Cambridge - The man who nurtured and grew his fledgling sod business into one of the largest in the province has died, five weeks after being critically injured in a car crash. Richard Schiedel, the founder of the Greenhorizons Group of Farms, died suddenly Saturday at Hamilton General Hospital. He was 78. The May 30 head-on collision on Highway 8 claimed the life of a 32-year-old woman from Troy, Ont. at the scene; Schiedel was airlifted to hospital. His condition had improved such that family members were preparing for him to return home in the coming days. "We thought we were on the road to recovery," said his son, Steve. Now, Schiedel's wife, Shirley, their four children Ron, Diane, Connie and Steve, grandchildren and great-grandchildren are preparing to say good-bye. Growing up in a farming family, Richard Schiedel was an innovator from the start. "He was a very forward thinker," said Ron, who has run Greenhorizons with Steve since their father's retirement in 1989. "He travelled the world to look for and find these ideas." He demonstrated that liquid nitrogen could be used in Ontario on a corn crop. He was among the pioneers in the topsoil delivery business, putting his trucks to work early in the season when the sod side of the firm was coming out of its winter slumber. Now, the company Richard founded in Cambridge in 1975 as Compact Sod also includes a mobile storage business and even a golf course in Hamilton. "He was a visionary," Steve said, "and he did what he could to encourage us." And he gave his sons the opportunity to make decisions - whether good or bad. "He let me make mistakes, even if they were costly," said Ron. "He knew I had to make them to learn." Even in his retirement, Richard Schiedel remained active in his business, and in his involvement with numerous industry, community and faith associations. An avid reader, he embraced the internet in recent years as a research tool. A family man, he always made time to support his grandchildren and great-grandchildren. A bit of a sportsman, too, he got into fishing in his later years. Visitation will be held Wednesday from 2 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. at the Henry Walser Funeral Home in Kitchener, with a funeral Thursday at 1 p.m. at Preston Mennonite Church.

The Waterloo Region Record 4 Jul 2010

A Tribute by David Barrie at Richard Schiedel's Memorial Service, July 8, 2010

What a privilege to be invited to speak about my long-time friend, Dick Schiedel. 60 years…..and we have done some fun things together. Also, we have some close connections---Shirley lived one mile north of the school (Dickie Settlement) and I lived one mile south----I enjoyed having their four kids in my 4-H club.

1954 – the first time the International Ploughing Match was in Waterloo County and Dick and I were in charge of the Junior Farmer tent. Dick said, "with all the potatoes grown here, let's serve potato soup!" I said, "sure, and I have the big iron kettle to make it in." To advertise, we hung purple/gold signs on every tractor pulling the wagon rides. We also put jingle signs on every highway leading to the Breslau site. "Come alone, or come in a group and have some hot, potato soup." The weather balloon we were going to fly so people could find us, never arrived in time.

Now if you believe your success in life depends on making mistakes, and making them early, then I think I am partly responsible for his great success in business. We struck out! The highway department took down all our road signs— the health department shut down our soup operation. To top it off, Hurricane Hazel destroyed everything on Friday night.

Noted events in his life were:

- Interesting: business, story.
- He had a residence in 1974 in RR2, Preston, Waterloo Region, Ontario, Canada.

Dorothy Louise Brodhaecker (F) was born on 11 Oct 1934 in Dickie Settlement, North Dumfries Twp., Waterloo Region, Ontario, Canada.[300]

Dorothy married Harold James Martin, son of Melvin Martin and Alverta Eileen Snider. Harold was born on 5 Aug 1930 in Floradale, Woolwich Twp., Waterloo Region, Ontario, Canada,[300] died on 29 Apr 1989 in Kitchener, Waterloo Region, Ontario, Canada,[300] at age 58, and was buried in Roseville Mennonite Cemetery [Formerly Detweiller], Roseville, Waterloo, ON, Canada.[300]

Dorothy next married Robert Ernest Martin, son of Urias Rudy Martin[301] and Irene Pearl "Pearl" Hallman. Robert was born on 17 Aug 1928 in Kitchener, Waterloo Region, Ontario, Canada, died on 31 Oct 2008 in Kitchener, Waterloo Region, Ontario, Canada, at age 80, and was buried in Williamsburg Cemetery, Kitchener, Waterloo Region, Ontario, Canada.

MARTIN, Robert Ernest - Passed away, peacefully, at St. Mary's Hospital, on October 31, 2008 in the company of his wife, Dorothy Martin (nee Brodhaecker) and his immediate family. He was in his 81st year. He was predeceased by his first wife of 47 years, Jean Martin (nee Skerritt) and by his parents, Urias and Pearl Martin. Beloved father of Douglas and his wife, Bette-Jean of Kitchener and daughter, Debra Maidment and her husband, Danny of Waterloo. Dearly loved grandfather of Sarah and Jonathan Martin and Elyse Maidment. Brother of Shirley Hawthorne and her husband Frank, Dorothy Walker and her husband Don, Bette Bailey and her husband Tom. Dearly loved step-father of Barry and Lisa Martin, Barbara and Paul Lawrence, Brad and Val Martin, Betty Ann and Dennis Wagler and grandchildren, Jill and Josh Martin; Lynda and Megan Lawrence; Ben, Kelly and Jacob Martin and Zachary and Tyrone Wagler. Bob will be remembered by all who had the pleasure of knowing him. He was a reserved man who, by contrast, could quickly become the life of a gathering. Many of his favourite times were at the cottage in Port Elgin. Visitation will be held at the Westmount Funeral Chapel, 1001 Ottawa St. S., Kitchener on Monday (today) from 2-4 and 6-8 p.m. The funeral service will be held at Grace United Church, 3258 Roseville Rd., Roseville, on Tuesday, November 4, 2008 at 1: 30 p.m. followed by interment at Williamsburg Cemetery, Kitchener. Donations, in lieu of flowers, would be gratefully accepted by Grace United Church, Roseville or the Grand River Regional Cancer Centre and may be arranged by contacting the funeral home at 519-743-8900. Rev. Ezra H. and Lucinda (Fried) Thamer put down roots, raising three daughters and four sons above the family's general store. Originally owned by James Wing, the shop at 190 Main St. was purchased by Ezra outright in 1904 and he then installed New Dundee's first Bell Telephone exchange. As a sideline, Ezra operated a small creamery in the cellar. Proving an unsuccessful butter maker, he sold the idle equipment and donated the basement space for a year to a group of shareholders calling itself the New Dundee Co-Operative Creamery Limited. That was the 1908 foundation of what became New Dundee's largest industry. Soon, a large factory was erected, and by the 1930s, it was Ontario's largest butter producer. In 1998, the creamery closed, ending nine decades of employment for generations of New Dundee-ites....

Selling the store in 1911, Ezra, Lucinda and several of the children moved to 20 Alma St. in Berlin (Charles Street East in 2018, site of the Crowne Plaza parking garage). Less than a block away, Ezra and second son Franklin opened E.H. Thamer & Son men's furnishings shop at 96 King East at Scott (2018's Waterloo Region Record office site). Third son Owen had been born in 1896....

Franklin Freid Thamer (M) was born on 27 Aug 1894 in New Dundee, Wilmot Twp., Waterloo Region, Ontario, Canada,[327] died on 16 Nov 1976 in Toronto, York Co., Ontario, Canada, at age 82, and was buried in Mount Pleasant Burial Park, Swift Current, Saskatchewan. Another name for Franklin was Frank Thamer.

Selling the store in 1911, Ezra, Lucinda and several of the children moved to 20 Alma St. in Berlin (Charles Street East in 2018, site of the Crowne Plaza parking garage). Less than a block away, Ezra and second son Franklin opened E.H. Thamer & Son men's furnishings shop at 96 King East at Scott (2018's Waterloo Region Record office site). Third son Owen had been born in 1896, and when the opening salvoes of the First World War were fired, he was 18 and a half. The Thamer brothers, like most Canadian men in their teens/early 20s, inexorably became part of the First World War.

Franklin joined the 34th Overseas Battalion in Guelph and was in France by October 1915, among the earliest Berlin men to reach the battlefield. A letter Franklin sent from hospital in April 1917 said he was suffering from "shell-shock and concussion of the ears." However, Sapper F.F. Thamer returned to active service, escaped further serious injury and was part of the Canadian Army of Occupation in Germany following the November 1918 Armistice. He sent several souvenirs back home and Ezra proudly displayed helmets, badges and photos in the family's store window. Franklin returned to Kitchener in mid June 1919. For a couple of years, he remained with his father's business but then left town.

Flash from the Past: RFC flyer in training visits hometown 'by mistake'

by rych mills Waterloo Region Record

Today's subject began his life in New Dundee. That's where Owen Thamer's parents, Rev. Ezra H. and Lucinda (Fried) Thamer put down roots, raising three daughters and four sons above the family's general store. Originally owned by James Wing, the shop at 190 Main St. was purchased by Ezra outright in 1904 and he then installed New Dundee's first Bell Telephone exchange. As a sideline, Ezra operated a small creamery in the cellar. Proving an unsuccessful butter maker, he sold the idle equipment and donated the basement space for a year to a group of shareholders calling itself the New Dundee Co-Operative Creamery Limited. That was the 1908 foundation of what became New Dundee's largest industry. Soon, a large factory was erected, and by the 1930s, it was Ontario's largest butter producer. In 1998, the creamery closed, ending nine decades of employment for generations of New Dundee-ites.

But, back to the Thamers.

Selling the store in 1911, Ezra, Lucinda and several of the children moved to 20 Alma St. in Berlin (Charles Street East in 2018, site of the Crowne Plaza parking garage). Less than a block away, Ezra and second son Franklin opened E.H. Thamer & Son men's furnishings shop at 96 King East at Scott (2018's Waterloo Region Record office site). Third son Owen had been born in 1896, and when the opening salvoes of the First World War were fired, he was 18 and a half. The Thamer brothers, like most Canadian men in their teens/early 20s, inexorably became part of the First World War....

Owen, the younger brother, didn't enlist immediately but had flying in his blood and signed with the Royal Flying Corps. Following aviation courses at the University of Toronto, he was assigned to Aviation School at Camp Borden. Early on May 10, 1917, a curious incident in Kitchener attracted hundreds of spectators as well as front-page coverage in both local daily newspapers.

Flight Cadet Owen Thamer took off alone in his JN-4 Canuck two-seat training aircraft, ostensibly heading for Owen Sound. Claiming to have become lost in the clouds, he travelled via Georgetown, Hamilton, Brantford, Galt and, surprise, 115 miles later, ended up in his hometown of Kitchener. At 7: 15 a.m., early-rising people in the east ward were surprised to hear a low-flying airplane circle and land on Alderman Sam Brubacher's farm field, near today's Weber/Pandora intersection.

Coincidentally (or not), in the previous day's Kitchener Daily Telegraph, Ezra said a landing place had been picked out should his son fly in for a visit!

A phone call to Camp Borden resulted in an order for Owen to stay grounded until his instructor, Flight-Lieutenant Watson (or was it Wilson? each newspaper had a different name) could fly to Kitchener and escort him back. Alas, Wilson/Watson's plane cracked up on landing but, luckily, neither he nor his accompanying mechanic was injured. Since Thamer's airplane was not damaged, Watson/Wilson flew it back next morning to Camp Borden. Thamer caught a train back to base after a day in his hometown....

Well-Known Farmer Meets Death

Lawrence Fried Pinned Under Tractor and is Drowned

Lawrence Fried was found dead beneath an overturned tractor in the ditch on the Blenheim-Wilmot townline about 2 miles south of New Dundee at two o'clock on Monday afternoon. Just how the accident occurred is not known. The accident occurred at a culvert in the road and it is believed in coming down hill he did not notice how close he was to the edge and the tractor overturned into the ditch pinning him underneath in about three feet of water. The doctors who examined the dead man said that he was uninjured but was in such a position that it was impossible for him to extricate himself, death being due to drowning.

Mr. Fried who lived about 1 ½ miles southeast of New Dundee, left his home about ten o'clock in the forenoon with his tractor to plough at another farm. Later passersby noticed the machine in the ditch by the roadside, but it was not until early in the afternoon, Mr. Fried not appearing, that is was thought he might be underneath and upon investigation the body was found submerged in three feet of water. No inquest was deemed necessary by Coroner Dr. Honsberger, of Kitchener, as it was evident the death was accidental.

The late Mr. Fried was a prominent farmer and a well-known horse and cattle breeder, showing at Toronto and London as well as at the fairs in this district. He was well known in New Hamburg. He was about 47 years of age and is survived by his widow and eight children, besides his father, John, Fried, now of Kitchener.

New Hamburg Independent, December 10, 1920

CRUSHED TO DEATH BY TRACTOR

Lawrence (sic) Fried was found dead beneath an overturned tractor on the Blenheim-Wilmot road, about two o'clock this afternoon. He had been driving across the culbert (sic) when apparently the tractor left the road, broke through the railing and overturned in the ditch, where there was two or three feet of water. Fried was pinned underneath and was dead when found. Just when the accident occurred is not known definitely. He was taken to New Dundee and Coroner Dr. J. F. Honsberger called.

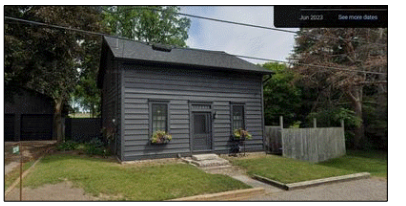
- He worked as a Farmer in 1924 in Blenheim Twp., Oxford Co., Ontario, Canada.[393]
- He had a residence in 3218 Roseville Rd., Roseville, Ontario. This one and a half storey house originally had cedar roof shingles, although they are now green shingles, and it has brown clapboard siding. There is a small porch facing the road, and the windows are 2 over 2 with a yellow and green trim. It was the retirement home of William Perrin and his wife.



In the early 1900's it was believed this house was haunted. People in the village would often tell stories of how former owners heard strange noises in the house, such as heavy chains dragging. One woman believed that a ghost would go into her children's rooms and remove their blankets at night. According to the villagers', the house became haunted after an elderly woman died in the house. It was reported that she had lost her mind. Two other prominent owners of this house were William Perrin, who was the former road commissioner for the village; and Gordon Fried, who was an active member of the Roseville community.

Isabel Gooding (F) was born on 6 Dec 1919,[458] died on 13 Apr 2014 in Kitchener, Waterloo Region, Ontario, Canada, at age 94, and was buried in Roseville Mennonite Cemetery [Formerly Detweiller], Roseville, Waterloo, ON, Canada.

GOODING, Isabell Passed away peacefully with family by her side, in her 95th year, on Palm Sunday, April 13, 2014 at Trinity Village Nursing Home. Born in Plattsville, Ontario on December 6, 1919, Isabell was the last surviving child of Albert and Melissa (nee Fried) Gooding. Predeceased by her parents and siblings Leonard (Winnie) Gooding, Mabel (Gord) Bullock, Pearl (Layton) Shantz, Fannie

(Ken) Habel, infant Eleanor, Irene Gooding, and Sherwood (Lavonna) Gooding. Dear Mother of Joanne (Daniel) Kraemer. Loving Grandmother of Dustin, Laura and Jacqueline Kraemer. All her relatives and friends will sadly miss her but we take solace that the burdens of this life have come to an end. Her journey had been long and at times arduous, but her love and devotion will always be remembered and cherished. Isabell started working as a maid for the Schneider, Kabel and the A.R. Kaufman families. When she worked for the Kaufman family, her bedroom was on the 3rd floor of what is now the Ratz-Bechtel Funeral Home. At the age of 42, she returned to school to obtain her high school equivalency and became a bookkeeper for numerous local small businesses. Mom was never afraid to work and daily delivered 200 K-W Records till she was 75. Our gratitude goes to all the staff at Trinity Village who wonderfully cared for Mom for seven years. All functions will be held at the Ratz-Bechtel Funeral Home, 621 King St. W. Visitation is from 2-4 and 7-9 on Wednesday, April 16. The Funeral Service will be in the Chapel on Thursday April 17 at 11: 00 a.m., Rev. James Reese of Benton Street Baptist Church officiating. And the reception at the Family Centre will immediately follow. Interment will be at Roseville Mennonite Cemetery. Remembrances may be made to Trinity Village Care Centre or the Cardiac Care unit of St. Mary's Hospital.

Menno H. Hallman, "was born May 15th, 1844. He is married to Anna Groff and resides on his father's and grandfather's old homestead where he is engaged in the buying and selling of cattle in connection with managing the large farm. His family consist of the following children"

Eby, Ezra E. (1895). A biographical history of Waterloo township and other townships of the county: being a history of the early settlers and their descendants, mostly all of Pennsylvania Dutch origin: as also much other unpublished historical information chiefly of a local character. Berlin [Kitchener, Ont.]: [s.n.].

Menno H. Hallmann, Warden of the County of Waterloo, died on Sunday in his residence near Roseville. He was stricken by influenza in the autumn of 1898 and had been in poor health ever since. He was born May 15, 1844, was one of the best-known farmers in the County and was very involved with the cattle trade. For several years, he had been a member of the County Council, and a year ago, was named Warden, an office he very seldom exercized, because of his illness. His widow is a sister of Mr. S. Groff of Berlin. She, as well as three sons and two daughters, survive him. The burial took place yesterday, on Wednesday, at the Hallmann Cemetery near Roseville. The news of Mr. Hallmann's death reached Roseville on Sunday at the hour when the funeral service for Daniel D. Knechtel, another respected citizen of the area, was taking place.

M. HALLMAN.

A short distance further east down the road, and we come to the home of the above named gentleman. Mr. Hallman has lived here nearly all his life, and has for a number of years been one of the most extensive cattle buyers in North Dumfries. He is also a Justice of the Peace and a member of the county council, and his constituents look upon him as one of the honorable and worthy members of that body. He buys thousands of cattle annually, many of which he fattens and fits for the English market, and at the time of my visit he had thirty-four head of fine animals on band. His farm of 350 acres can not be surpassed by any other of like extent in the Dominion. Mr. Hallman is seldom found at home during the day, being either on the road buying cattle or attending to his official duties as member of the county council. He is a very busy man 365 days in the year.

Across the way on another part of the farm lives his son, E. J. Hallman, also a practical young farmer. This farm is also noted for its fine horses, and while on the latter place I was shown a handsome beast, "Dash wood," a two-year-old, and a pacer from Billy Clay, the dam having a record of 2:22 On this farm an average of 1,500 bushels of wheat annually are raised. Both Mr. Hallman and his son are members of the Farmer's Institute. They take a deep interest in any subject that has for its purpose the maintenance of a practical system of farming and one that has a tendency to encourage the farming community in general. That they are amply capable of offering valuable suggestions on farming will convince the skeptic that it is the case if he will make a personal inspection of their large and well managed estate.

Solo enthusiasts bonded by friendship as much as game

If you grew up in a card-playing family in Waterloo Region or had friends of German descent, you were likely introduced at an early age to that wonderful game of solo. It seems to be as indigenous to this area as pigtails and sauerkraut.

Reta Rohr, 90, was born in Roseville. When she became engaged to Orland Bierman and was preparing to move to his farm in Erbsville, she was told by Irma Neeb that if she was going to live there she would have to learn to play solo.

"I thought it was a hard game to learn, and I just hated her for saying that," Reta recalled.

Orland's uncle taught her to play, and she found it wasn't so difficult.

In fact, she enjoys the game so much now that every Monday she drives, literally through storm and sleet in the winter, from her home in New Dundee (where she also plays solo) to join her friends in the Belmont Seniors Solo Club at Victoria Hills Centre in Kitchener. Only once did she have to leave early to avoid getting snowed in.

Like most of the club's 54 members, she enjoys the companionship as much as the game, especially since she retired. Reta sold the farm and went to work at Schneiders when her husband died. Three months after a mandatory retirement at 65, she was offered a job at the Hybrid Turkey Farm where she worked until she was 72. She became a charter member of the Belmont club when it was formed by Art Miehm in 1982.

The club got its name because it originally met at Belmont Centre, which was run by the City of Kitchener, offering sports and other activities. When they had to vacate Belmont, which was later torn down, they moved to a small room at Victoria Hills Centre and, as its membership expanded, mostly through word of mouth, has moved into the gymnasium for their weekly meetings.

As in most senior organizations, men are in the minority, but it is "a good mix," says president, Dove Dickison. Members range in age from mid-60s to 100. Most are from Kitchener and Waterloo, but some, like Reta, are from out of town and a carload of seniors from a retirement home in St. Jacobs attend regularly

"It's a very congenial group," said Dove. "We even feel we know their families, whom we hear talked about and meet occasionally. They are like an extended family"

Charter members include Elsie Hennig, 103, who is no longer able to attend, and Dot Snider, who recently celebrated her 100th birthday and still comes out regularly. They were schoolmates, although not in the same class, at King Edward School. Dot was born in a house at the corner of Victoria and King streets, which was moved to make room for the Kaufinan factory.

There was special birthday party for Dot, but you have to be 100 to get this kind of attention. Ninety-year olds like Verna Robinson and Art Walton as well as Anne Scott who will celebrate her 90th in November are "too young to qualify for this special recognition, said Dove.

The membership fees are only $2 a year and the players pay 50 cents at the weekly meetings. A $1 prize is awarded to each of the high score, high points and high solo winners, and the rest goes into the pot to provide coffee treats on special occasions and help offset their Christmas dinner, so there isn't much left for birthday parties.

Dove moved to Waterloo from Meaford when her husband died. She has since remarried and was taught to play solo by her husband, Earl.

She joined the club 12 years ago. Assisting her on the current executive are vice-president Beryl Nicholson, treasurer Gerry Gatschene, secretary Norma Hiuser, kitchen convener Connie Connor and her assistant, Bernice Self. They miss photographer Lloyd Schlosser, now deceased, who compiled a pictorial history of the club's activities.

They have eight to 10 tables in play on average.

"Most have to have a good reason like a special appointment not to attend. I don't think they are ever sick," said Dove. "But the membership is open. There is always room for additional members. Just come to Victoria Hills Recreation Centre any Monday from 1 to 4 p.m. and we will make you welcome."

New members can play three times before being required to join the club.

Trim Services Ltd.

Trim Services Ltd., as it is currently known, was established in 1901 under the name of S. Groff & Son. It operated as a manufacturers agent, servicing the garment industry in Western Canada. In its early years, the company was the Western Canada representative for Canadian Buttons Ltd., one of the largest button producers in the British Empire. They also represented many other companies in the needle trade, selling zippers, cotton trimming, pant bindings, buckles and, of interest, ivory and wooden buttons. The company opened an office in Vancouver in 1948
Bob Groff, the current owner, noted in 2001 that as impressive as it might be to survive 100 years in business, his family has roots in the garment industry dating back to the late 1600s. Hans Groff, one of his first ancestors to come to North America, landed in Grofftown, Pennsylvania and ran a successful business as a middleman handling furs between the aboriginal and expatriate European populations.

When Samuel Groff stepped off the train at Winnipeg on a spring day in 1901, he brought with him two things from his home in Waterloo County: a sample grip of buttons, and a deep desire to start a successful business in the West. In an article written in the mid-1950s, the company was described as having progressed from one man's pioneering effort to the combined services of 20 employees. It has always been a family business with as many as four nephews involved at one time.

The present business of Trim Services Ltd. was started by Allan B. Groff in 1972 as an outgrowth of Groff Agencies, continuing to provide services in the trimming needs of the needle trade. The company was purchased by the current owner, Bob Groff, in 1980 from his father. Bob, following in the long tradition of his family, had started out as a 19-year-old button cleaner in 1978. He continues to run a family-based business, supplying buttons, zippers, fabric, thread, and hangers to the garment manufacturers. Their business was conducted in the Exchange District of downtown Winnipeg, once inhabited by more than 100 garment-industry firms.

The business moved out of its downtown location in 2001 and today, Bob and his wife Lisa continue to operate Trim Services out of their home as a team with no employees. They continue to service some of the heavyweights in Winnipeg's garment industry, including Nygaard International, Standard Knitting, and Western Glove, generating over one million dollars in sales annually for the companies that they represent.

Award presented to Bob Groff by Ken Zealand, January 2003.

SAMUEL GROFF. PRESIDENT NORTH WEST BUTTON CO.

Mr. Samuel Groff, though not a native born Berliner, still is a son of the fine old County of which Berlin is the chief town. He comes of Pennsylvania German stock. His grand father was Andrew Groff who learned the trade of Miller in his home state - Pennsylvania. In 1822 he came to Waterloo and after a few years spent there and at Galt, he acquired a large tract of land near Preston, where he carried on farming, saw-milling, a grist mill, store, hotel and distillery and became one of the wealthiest men in the county. His eldest son, Isaac, was the father of the subject of this sketch, who was born near Freeport in 1847. He early entered mercantile life in the late J. Hoffman's store and was one of the earlier merchants in Berlin. He was head of the firm Groff and Hymmen for many years, a house that was among the largest in the county. Several years ago, he went to Winnipeg and at present he is president of the North West Button Co.

S. FRED GROFF. WINNIPEG MAN

Mr. S. Fred Groff is one of the younger of Berlin Old Boys. He was born in Berlin and is the eldest son of Mr. Samuel Groff. His early business training was acquired in the offices and shipping department of the W. G. & R. Co. There was laid a foundation on which he has builded a successful and promising career. After severing his relations with this firm he was, for several years in San Francisco holding a responsible position with a Guaranty Bond Company. But he was imbued with the thought that there are great prospects ahead for the young man with pluck and enterprise in the Canadian West, and with his father established the North West Button Company in Winnipeg. The business is growing with the country and as Secretary-Treasurer and head of the travelling men, Mr. Groff is responsible in no small measure for the success achieved. In addition to the button business, the Messrs. Groff handle a number of lines of Made in Berlin Goods. Among the firms they represent are the Berlin Suspender Co., Berlin Gauntlet Co., Star Whitewear Co., Reiner Bros., Wellesley, Galt Robe Co., and others.

A Severe Blow
SAD DEATH OF LESLIE GROFF

Misfortune never comes single handed, is an old saying the truth of which is shown by a chain of circumstances within the last few days. First came the trouble in business, to Mr S Groff; then the removal of his son Fred, but last night came the hardest blow of all, when the Angel of Death entered his home and robbed the parents of their little son, who brought light and cheer into the home.

Alexander Leslie, who was only five and a half years old, had been ill for some little time, but not seriously until a few days ago, when the disease, pulmonary croup, became dangerous. Despite the attendance of Drs Honsberger and G H Bowlby, the child breathed its last on Monday night. The funeral was held at 2.30 this afternoon and was private. The Record extends its sympathies to the parents, and members of the sorrowing family.

During the mid 1800's before the construction of the Rockwood Asylum for the Criminally Insane, Kingston Penitentiary was overrun with mentally ill and criminally insane inmates. To solve this problem, The Rockwood Criminal Lunatic Asylum was built on the shores of Lake Ontario, close to the penitentiary and built by the prisoners themselves. Construction began in 1859 and although it was not completed until 1870, men began to occupy portions of the building as early as 1862. Female prisoners were admitted during this time period and lived in the old horse stables that remained from when the property was a private villa. In 1868, the female inmates were also moved inside. Once completed, the asylum housed 300 patients.

This was the criteria an inmate had to meet to be transferred to Rockwood Criminal Lunatic Asylum:

1. Convicts in the penitentiary becoming insane while under sentence there.
2. Certain classes of lunatics committed to jail as lunatics dangerous to be at large.
3. Persons charged with some offence of which they had been acquitted on the ground that they were insane at the time such offence was committed.
4. Persons indicted for any offence, and upon arraignment thereof found, by a jury especially impanelled for the purpose, to be insane.

Patients wore distinctive canvas uniforms bearing the word LUNATIC. The medical goal in the mid 1800s was not to cure criminal lunatics, but rather to calm them. Chloral hydrate and alcohol were used to pacify patients, and they were also often bled. Dr. Litchfield, the only physician at Rockwood at the time, had a simple treatment plan that relied heavily upon "a pretty free use of alcohol by day and sedative by night." Treatment also involved restraints, blistering, leeching, enemas, and blood-letting.

GROSS, Rosaleen (nee Sararas) Passed away at Innisfree House on Thursday, January 26, 2017, in her 107th year. Beloved wife of the late Carl Gross. Dear mother of William (Linda) of Niagara Falls and David (Mary) of Wasaga Beach. Loved grandmother of Melanie, Julie, Sara, and Lisa and great-grandmother of Griffin, Allison, Oliver, and Rosalee. Predeceased by siblings Lloyd, Beulah, and Pearl. Rosaleen cherished her family and many friends. She made friends easily, loved to laugh and had a positive attitude. Her gratitude was legendary as were her Dutch apple pies. The Blue Jays were her baseball team and she followed them faithfully. She was fiercely independent for as long as possible and then she managed to accept the changes caused by failing health with grace. We will miss her smile, her sense of humour and her love. Always in our hearts. Rosaleen's family will receive relatives and friends at Westmount Memorial Celebration Centre, 1001 Ottawa St. S., Kitchener, (519-743-8900) on Friday, February 3, 2017 from 10:30 - 11:15 a.m., where the funeral service will be held in the chapel at 11:30 a.m. Luncheon to follow. Interment to take place at Woodland Cemetery. Many thanks to the friends and staff at Parkwood Suites who made her stay there very enjoyable. To the staff and volunteers at Innisfree House, thank you for the peace and comfort that you provided her. If desired, memorial donations would be appreciated to Innisfree House, 2375 Homer Watson Blvd., Kitchener, ON N2P 0E9. Online condolences at www.westmountfuneralchapel.com

John, bought the Poor House farm. The son erected a home in Frederick Street, opposite the House of Refuge. It was made of foot-wide planks, laid one atop the other. In 1837 he married Rebecca, daughter of Samuel Bricker, who played a prominent past in the Beasley mortgage snag.

North Waterloo is indebted to the Mennonites for the introduction of the apple-tree and apple-butter. John Eby planted a large orchard and owned a cider-mill. Maryborough farmers drove down and bought wagon-loads of apples from him. The buyers came in one day, stayed over night, and started off the next morning.

Mr. and Mrs. John Eby were the parents of two sons and four daughters. The youngest daughter, Susanna, of 178 Frederick Street, was born in the farm house in 1858. She remembers seeing her mother spinning flax and wool, and of twisting the threads for her. The girls were taught how to bake and sew; and all the children to work and save. Miss Eby often saw the pleasure wagon in which Samuel Bricker brought over the mass of silver to pay for the Mennonite purchase.

Her father built a home (which is still in use) [1937], for his widowed mother, on the east side of Frederick Street, at the Five Points. In 1868 her father sold the County the Poor House farm, retaining only his home and five acres of land. His second youngest child was daughter named Madeline (1851-1929). She was married to Martin Dunham in 1880. Eight years later her father sold to Mr. Dunham the five acres mentioned and moved farther into town. Later on Mr. Dunham subdivided his purchase and sold it for building lots The city renamed part of East Avenue and La Grange Street, Dunham Avenue, in 1933, in honor of this family.

Frederick Street, West Side.

On the site in front of the present Fire Hall, on the street line next to the St. Nicholas hotel, an unpainted frame shed, with an enclosed part at one end where the fireman's hook and ladder truck was kept. In case of fire this truck was generally rushed out by hand, a long rope attached to the pole and a double line of men. After the fire was out they would hire a team to draw the truck back.

An open space.

A small dark yellow frame school building erected in 1834 and later used to store the fire engine.

A wood shed later used as a two-cell lock-up for the village, 1857-60, and probably a little later.

Behind the school house stood an undenominational church erected in 1842. The church had a steeple with a railing around it. About ten years later the building was used for a school room, called the Advanced School. In 1856 it was used for the village council and known as the Town Hall. In 1874 it was used as an engine house, and so continued until the building known as the Market House was built in 1869. After 1874 it was again used as an engine house until the present Fire Hall was built on its site.

A two-story brick building with gable toward Frederick Street and a second story porch along the front erected by Justus Werner about 1850, or 51, still standing. Werner had a waggon shop on the first floor and lived with his family on the second. Later a Mr. Foreman bought the building and had a shoe shop on the first floor for a number of years.

A brick house later occupied by Dr. Mylius when he moved there from his King Street house.

A frame building the house of Henry Knell, the jeweller, later occupied by Mathias Riener, a tailor, who came from Vienna, Austria, and moved here from Breslau.

one-story red frame building a little back of the street line with gable toward Frederick Street, erected about 1838, occupied by Peter Rebscher Senior, the brewer's father.

A one and one-half story frame building, not painted, lengthwise with Frederick Street with ground floor a few steps above the sidewalk, occupied by Mrs. Krug, a widow, and next to it her barn.

A vacant space to Weber Street. The Court House was built in 1852, the registry office later, and still later the present Judge's chambers. Vacant space on Ahrens Street.

On the northerly corner of Ahrens a 1 ½ story brick dwelling parallel with Frederick Street built and occupied by Philip Reichert, a carpenter. His father was a pedler, vending tinware and china, rags and produce. A 1 1/2 story frame building with a small veranda over the front door, the dwelling of Otto Fleischauer, still standing and now on the corner of Otto Street.

Intersection of Lancaster, Frederick and Ellen Sts., long known as the five points. Next, on Frederick Street a double, white frame weather board dwelling, half occupied by Henry Otterbein, the other half by Balzar Schmalz.

Next, the farm house of John Eby with his dwelling directly opposite the House of Refuge. The county bought most of Eby's farm for this latter institution.

T. B. SNIDER, Deputy Reeve of Waterloo Township, is a son of Elias Snider, and brother of E. W. B. Snider, M.P.P., and reckons among his ancestors some of the pioneers of this county, to whose efforts its development to its present high status is largely attributable. He was born in Waterloo Village in 1850, and there he grew to manhood. At the age of nineteen he assumed control of his father's extensive flouring mills, and later became a partner with his brother, A. B. Snider, in operating the large German Mills, an establishment which has been in commission about sixty years. He also participates in the promotion of agricultural matters, and has been largely instrumental in the improvement of the farm stock of the county by the importation of choice beasts from abroad. He has taken part as well in the conduct of municipal matters for several years past, and is now serving his third year in the township Council in the capacity of Deputy Reeve.

Bonners Observe Golden Wedding

Sanborn, Iowa. April 20. - Mr. and Mrs. John E. Bonner enjoyed having a group of their relatives and friends come to their home Tuesday afternoon and evening to extend congratulations and best wishes on the occasion of their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

On Monday, Mrs. Bonner's sister, Mrs. C. A. Hakeman, entertained at a one o'clock dinner at her home in their honor. At this dinner another sister, Mrs. J. H. Peacock and husband, of Rock Rapids, and their daughter-in-law, Mrs. W. Peacock, of Des Moines, were also guests. A lovely centerpiece was an angel food cake with yellow and white decorations, baked and presented to Mr. and Mrs. Bonner by Miss Erma Jackson.

When the guests were entertained at their home on Tuesday, pieces of this wedding cake were served with lemon sherbet.

The couple received many cards, flowers and remembrances. A fine easy chair was given them by relatives.

John E. Bonner and Archlista Snider were married at Sanborn, April 18, 1894. They lived in or near Sanborn until 1904, when they ment[sic] to South Dakota and lived at Frederick and then at Valley Springs. They returned to Sanborn in 1910 and lived here for three years, then going to Belmont, Mont., which was their home for 30 years. Last December they again returned to Sanborn to retire and celebrated their golden wedding in the town where they were married.

Mrs. Bonner was born in Canada and came to Sanborn when 18 years of age; Mr. Bonner was born at Benton, Wisc., and came to the Sanborn vicinity with his parents when a young boy. Both are in fairly good health; although they enjoy the comfort of home as most people do as they approach old age, they greatly enjoyed this occasion and personally gave a hearty welcome to all the callers. - Pioneer.

Mr. Isaac Groff, who is the oldest cattle dealer on the Elmira market, was born near Waterloo. From his youth he was a good judge of pure-bred and fat cattle and is still conceded to be one of the best informed dealers in Ontario. He has been identified with the Elmira market for a quarter of a century and has bought and shipped an immense number of fat cattle, stockers and sheep. Some of the best fat cattle produced in Ontario, pass through his hands. He covers a large field and makes frequent shipments from Waterloo, St. Jacobs and Alma, besides those he is constantly making to and from Elmira. Although Mr. Groff lives on a farm, some distance west of Elmira, he operates from Elmira and is regarded as one of her most useful business men.

Martha Snyder Bechtel 1893 - 1945

Martha grew up in the midst of congregational activities and when the women in Ontario began organizing, Martha was prepared to fill a role among them.

Wanner Women Organize
Martha Snyder was born on February 5, 1893 to Absolom B. and Mary (Groff) Snyder near Hespeler, Ontario. Her father was ordained a minister shortly before her birth. Church activities and evangelistic meetings in particular, received a great deal of time and energy in the Snyder family. The Snyders were members of the Wanner Mennonite Church. As the oldest in the family, Martha was unable to attend high school, but in the fall of 1913, she enrolled in the academy in Goshen, Indiana. Nelson Bechtel from Hespeler was studying music at Goshen also. Although Martha probably was at Goshen only one year, she was introduced to the wider Mennonite world of mission interest. On December 1, 1915 the Wanner women met at the Absolom Snyder home to organize a women's missionary society. Someone recalled that at this meeting Mary Snyder was in charge, and that Martha coached her mother on how to go about electing officers and voting on other matters. No doubt, the initiative for this venture came from Mabel Groh, a member at Wanner, and whose story is told elsewhere in this book, but it may be that Martha had also received inspiration for women's work at Goshen. At the 1915 meeting, Ada Bechtel was elected president, Martha was on the cutting committee, and Mother Snyder on the visiting committee. At the second organizational meeting in 1916, Martha was elected president, but by that time she was Mrs. Nelson Bechtel. During that first year they sewed for the Kitchener orphanage and supplied mouth wash for the soldiers. Those were the years of World War I.. Martha sometimes also acted spontaneously. The family recalls that one Sunday morning they were on their way to church. Seeing some boys at the river fishing, the Bechtels stopped, and Martha invited them to come to Sunday school. It was also Martha and Mabel Groh who drove around the community with horse and buggy inviting people to church. Daughter Dorothy recalls that Martha made up Christmas baskets for needy families. Whether this was a project of the church or a personal one, she no longer remembers. Daughter Ruth remembers taking food across the fields to an ailing neighbour. When the Mennonite refugees from Russia came in the 1920s, Martha also did special things for them.

The Ontario Women Organize

In the winter of 1936.... vice president, Martha very ably presided over the meeting and was elected president. Martha was serving as president when World War II broke out, and the women began to do a great deal of sewing for relief. Martha did not always feel up to the tasks which her office required, but she was very capable and could do what she set about to do. In 1941 she resigned due to illness. She died on March 12, 1945 at the age of 52. Edna Bowman remembers Martha as very outgoing and friendly. She was tall, blonde, with a striking bearing. When the women were looking for someone to serve on their committee, she was a likely candidate.

John served on the pastoral team at First Mennonite Church, in Kitchener, from 1949-1955. Following this the family moved to Scarborough, where he served as pastor of Warden Park Mennonite Church. In 1968, the congregation moved to a new building in Warden Woods Scarborough, to face the challenge of ministering to a new community. His tireless advocacy on behalf of this community and his vision for integrated social and spiritual services, led to Scarborough granting him their "Man of the Year" award in 1970. After thirty-one years in Scarborough, John and Ruth moved to Kingston, Ont., where he became Chaplain, at the Prison for Women. In 1977, he and his wife moved to Cambridge, Ontario, where he began an active retirement, gardening, woodworking and participating in the nursery at Wanner Mennonite Church. John approached death as he did life, with gentle dignity and inspiring faith. At the request of John, cremation has taken place. A memorial visitation will take place at Fairview Mennonite Auditorium on Saturday, May 26, 2007, from 2-4 and 7-9 p.m. A memorial service will be held at Fairview Mennonite Auditorium on Sunday, May 27, 2007, at 2 p.m.

George Bechtel (M) was born on 4 Aug 1932[1075] and died on 3 May 2019, at age 86.

George Bechtel

Farmer, animal lover, singer, husband, teacher, father, gardener, train enthusiast, transportation advocate, and cyclist, George passed from this life on May 3, 2019, aged 86 years.

He was the beloved husband of Grace (Schott), father of Trevor (Susan Hunsberger), and Gini (Tamara Shantz). He was the son of Nelson (1968) and Martha (Snyder, 1945) and stepson of Margaret (McTavish, 1985), and the brother of Janet (2013, Tom Inglis 1994), Mary Alma (2010, Charles Goodrich, 1992), Ruth, who survives (John Hess, 2007), and Dorothy (2010, Merlin Grove, 1962).

George spent the first part of his life working on his father's farm, established in 1816. His love of animals began here, particularly as he nursed his badly injured peacock Birdy back to health from a near fatal attack, and related to the dairy cattle with his characteristic gentleness. George taught at the secondary level and community college level for 29 years forming lifelong relationship with many students and colleagues. In retirement he volunteered at Doon Heritage Crossroads and researched early farm gardens building on his lifelong vocation as a gardener. George introduced many people in Waterloo County to the beauty of the dried strawflower producing many blooms for sale at the farmer's market and for Grace's bouquets.

George had a sought after tenor voice, singing in choirs and quartets– notably the Junior Farmers Quartet and Renaissance Singers– and leading singing and soloing throughout the Mennonite community. He was both a lover of British cars and an advocate of alternatives to the automobile. He was known publicly as an advocate of passenger rail publishing regular articles and letters to the editor and planning yearly family train trips. The family had two dogs, Avey and Bo, after which George took up weekend sitting for National Service dogs. Most recently George and Grace welcomed Mabel the cat into their home. George was rejuvenated by summer family camping trips, being outside and cooking on the hibachi. He was also an avid cyclist and recorded his mileage daily. He travelled the circumference of the earth more than two and a half times on short and long bicycle trips in Ontario. Late in life he suffered a significant bicycle accident and subsequently became interested in the results of concussions.

A longtime interest in family and local history took shape in the Society for the Preservation of the Samuel Bechtel Burial Ground, a registered non-profit he founded with others to protect the site were Mennonites first gathered 200 years ago.

George will be remembered by many relatives and friends.

During his illness he suffered severely and continuously, but he bore it all much patience and Christian fortitude. At the age of 14 he accepted Christ as his personal Savior, united with the Mennonite Church, and remained a faithful member to the end. In his untimely departure he leaves a sorrowing companion, one son (Keith), father, mother, two brothers (Leander and Curtis), besides a host of relatives and friends. In the home he will be greatly missed as an affectionate companion and a loving father. In the Church his service and counsel can no longer be personally given, but we bow to our heavenly Father, and from our heart's desire to say, "Thy will be done." Funeral services were held Mar. 14, from his late home to the Bean Church, and burial in the adjoining cemetery. Brethren Ozias Cressman, Manasseh Hallman, Moses Shantz, and Oscar Burkholder conducted the services. Text, Rev. 13: 14.

GROFF - Moses Groff was born Sept. 12, 1851; died near New Hamburg, Ontario, on Aug. 7, 1927; ages 75 y., 10 m., 7 d. On Nov. 11, 1880, he was married to Magdalena Eshelman who precede him five years. This union was blessed with three children (Emma, Sylvia, and Hattie), one who preceded him in death 16 years). Three brothers also survive (Abram, Aaron, and Ezra). In 1893 he united with the Mennonite Church, where he served his Lord faithfully until He took him. As a member of the Biehn congregation his place indeed is vacant. When health permitted he was seldom absent from the service. We shall ever remember him as an appreciative, attentive listener who loved to do his Master's will. During the last period of illness he often expressed a union blessed with three children; one desire to worship with God's people and was always appreciative of seasons of worship in the home. He bore his recent affliction and suffering with Christian fortitude, but longed to go and be with the Lord. In his death the home shall miss him as a loving, helpful father and the Church a faithful, active member. On Aug. 9 the funeral services were held from his late home near New Hamburg to the Biehn church and adjoining cemetery for interment. Services in charge of the brethren, Osias Cressman, Curtis C. Cressman, and Manasseh Hallman

AMONG THE FARMERS.

We called on Mr. Andrew Groff recently and found his splendid new barns 78x59, filled with grain; in fact, he has had to thrash twice and each time his large granaries were filled and he has still a lot to thrash. His short horn bull is a dandy and a great convenience to the people in town who own cows, he has also a fine lot of Berkshire pigs, the barns are a model of their kind and were erected by that popular barn builder Herman Hertel of Centreville. A new driving shed and implement building 42x30 has also been erected in which all the rigs and implements are kept, a model hennery is attached to this building where a fine lot of poultry was shown us.

Lyle Hallman at ground breaking

Lyle Hallman death

WATERLOO, Ont. -- The University of Waterloo family is saddened today by the tragic loss of Lyle Hallman, one of the Kitchener-Waterloo community's leading philanthropists and a great friend of the University.

Over the last decade, Lyle Hallman and his family generously supported the University of Waterloo, beginning with a donation for an endowment in the UW Library.

Later, several large donations to the Faculty of Applied Health Sciences made possible, first the creation of the Lyle S. Hallman Institute for Health Promotion and, more recently, the expansion of that facility. The Institute sponsors research and outreach programs to promote healthy living.

"Lyle was a tremendous friend to the University of Waterloo and a joy to be with," said president David Johnston. "He appreciated the vital reasons for advancing research into the kinds of health-related areas engaged in by the Faculty of Applied Health Sciences."

"He took great delight in helping UW and the community and will be greatly missed. But his legacy as a community builder will endure," Johnston said.

Past president James Downey had many associations with Hallman. "The University has lost a splendid benefactor and our K-W community has lost one of its finest citizens. He combined great business acumen with an admirable social conscience. Along with others, I was delighted when he was admitted to the Order of Canada. I feel privileged to have known him."

Mike Sharratt, dean of the Faculty of Applied health Sciences, said: "Lyle Hallman demonstrated an unparalleled generosity of spirit for helping children achieve a healthy lifestyle. We will honour that spirit through our research and teaching within the Lyle S. Hallman Institute for Health Promotion at UW."

June 10, 2003 Hallman sells rental empire.

Waterloo- ON - June 10, 2003 - It's the end of an era for the area's biggest landlords. Lyle and Wendy Hallman are getting out of the rental business. The basic, affordable block-style Hallman buildings that sprang up across the landscape over the decades and housed tens of thousands of people are being sold in one huge, multi-million-dollar real-estate deal. Wendy Hallman, 53 president of Hallman Property Management, confirmed yesterday that she and her husband Lyle, 81, are selling all of their more than 3,000 rental apartment units in 63 buildings. She wouldn't disclose the sum but it has been described as the biggest real-estate transaction ever for this area. The name of the buyer won't be made official until the superintendents have been informed. But it's known the deal is with an out-of-town company that owns apartment buildings in this area. The decision to sell the entire residential rental business came about quickly, Wendy Hallman said. When a buyer emerged who wanted all of the buildings, "that made it a very nice package," she said.

For more than 20 years, the Hallmans have lived in a unit in one of their apartment buildings in Waterloo. So, as of July 3, when the deal closes, "we'll be tenants for the first time," she said. Lyle Hallman described the sale as "a very successful ending to something I've been involved in for a lot of my life." It was the right deal at the right time, he said. But Hallman was adamant he has no intention of retiring, even if he is out of the rental business. He will still develop vacant properties for building lots and has office space on Victoria Street North to continue that part of the business. He also still owns a small commercial plaza and is busy with philanthropic endeavours. "I'll be in the office every day," he said. Wendy Hallman, who has worked for Lyle for 29 years and has run the property management side of the business in recent years, said "He still tires me out…I don't think he'll ever retire." Hallman's father was a general contractor in the Preston section of Cambridge. His business crashed in 1929. That didn't deter Lyle, who started his own business with $750 in 1945 after serving in the Second World War. He began by renovating buildings, then buying land and building houses.

He built his first apartment building in 1966 and kept on building. "I didn't know enough to stop," he said. The buildings sprung up not only in Kitchener, Waterloo, Cambridge and Guelph but also in smaller communities such as Elmira, New Hamburg, Fergus, Hanover, and Listowel. "We had millions of dollars of mortgage money in it but I just kept paying the mortgages down," Hallman said. The business grew until he had, at one point, about 4,000 units. His son, Tom, in Cambridge, started his own property management business and bought about 800 of the units. "Another son, Peter, was also prominent builder developer but died in a motorcycle accident in 1999. Hallman's daughter-in-law and two other children run seniors' homes. Hallman prided himself on building "housing for the masses." He built units geared to the average working person. The signature Hallman buildings are solid, square and basic yet clean and well maintained. "When I started, I had one thought in mind: There are more Chevrolets on this road than there are Cadillacs," Hallman said. Realtor John Whitney said Hallman has left a significant and lasting footprint in this area. "If you grew up in this area, chances are, you've lived in a Hallman building or you've had friends and family members who have lived in a Hallman building," Whitney said. "He didn't build the Taj Mahal but what he built was high quality and he maintained the buildings impeccably." As other investors were turning apartments into condominiums Hallman was adding to the area's rental housing stock. "He provided an infrastructure that allowed the region to grow," Whitney said. "It would be hard to get the employee base we have and get accommodation for those workers without the units he built. What he built is an important as a road network or an expressway."

Hallman's legacy is more than buildings. He's also been one of the area's most generous philanthropists. Recent donations include $1.5 million to the K-W Health Centre, $500,000 to the Fairview Mennonite Home in Cambridge, $500,000 for a pool that bears the Hallman name in Kitchener's Stanley Park area, and $1 million to the K-W Community Foundation. At a groundbreaking ceremony today, the Hallman's will launch an addition to the Lyle S Hallman Institute for Health Promotion, based at the University of Waterloo. Hallman said that with the proceeds from this sale, he will likely be able to do even more philanthropy. "I've got enough energy left to just keep going. There's a silver dollar at the end of every day," he said. He added that he does have a hobby outside his work; he's been an avid cross-stitcher for 25 years. "I always get up early (about 5 a.m.) and I can do an hour or two of sewing," he said. "I get a great satisfaction out of this because I don't have the TV on and I keep on sewing while I am thinking." Whitney said Hallman has shown people what one person can build. "I don't know of any more wonderful story than the Lyle Hallman story.

Young Man Succumbs to Injuries

John Groff who had his leg badly torn while silo filling at the farm of Samuel Snyder near New Dundee three weeks ago on Monday, died at the Kitchener-Waterloo Hospital on Sunday as the result of his injuries. His trousers caught in the machinery while he was oiling the same, and his leg was broken in two places, above and below the knee, and otherwise badly mangled. From the outset there were only slight hopes for his recovery. On the Saturday preceding his fatal accident the deceased and his brother lost their thresh-outfit in a fire that destroyed the barn of J. J. Brown, near Ayr.

The deceased was in his 22nd year, and was a son of the late Andrew B. Groff, of Wilmot. He is survived by his mother in Baden and several brothers and sisters. The remains were taken to the home of Mr. John S. Wilhelm, Erb's Road, from where the funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon to Shantz's Church and Cemetery.

Groff. - On the 15th of Feb., in Waterloo Twp., Waterloo Co., Ontario, Brother Abm. Groff, aged 55 years, 4 months and 2 days. About two weeks before his death, he lost his reason, apparently, and according to the saying of the physicians, he died of congestion of the lungs. He was buried at Martin's Meeting-house on the 18th, and the high esteem in which he was held appeared from the fact that a vast number of friends and acquaintances followed him to the grave.

Erb Street (David Eby) Mennonite Church

Early services which began around 1837 were held in private homes. Land at the corner of Erb Street and Hallman Road, where the present-day cemetery is located, was donated by David Eby Sr. on July 14, 1851; a red brick church known as David Eby's Church was built in the same year. The first minister in the new church was Jacob M. Oberholtzer who served from 1852 to 1874. He was followed by Elias Schneider (1874-1889), Jonas Snider (1892-1900), Newton Weber (1921-1923), and Noah Hunsberger (1923-1929).

Due to a difference of opinion in the David Eby congregation, Sunday School classes were held at first in a private home, that of Levi Groff, beginning in 1887. The dissension which resulted culminated in a division in the church in 1889; the minister, Elias Schneider, and the deacon, Menno S. Shantz, left the church and joined with the Old Order Mennonites of Woolwich Township. The following year, 1890, saw the commencement of "Edification Meetings", which were held in the homes of members of the David Eby congregation. These meetings later became the Young People's Bible Meetings.

By the beginning of the twentieth century, it was recognized that the church building was either in need of repair or in need of complete replacement. Consideration was given to building a new church on the same site or on a site on King Street North. A decision was made to accept from Samuel S. Snider the donation of a parcel of land which was also on Erb Street, but nearer town. Excavation of the foundation for the new church began in the Spring of 1902. A dedication service was held on August 17, 1902. A parsonage was built in 1929 on land donated by Herbert Snider, the son of Samuel Snider. The church building was renovated and enlarged in 1949-1950; a dedication service was held on April 9, 1950. Further renovations were made in 1974.

DOROTHY MARIE ELLIOTT 1907 - 2009

Passed away at the Sunshine Centre of Luther Village, Waterloo, on Sunday, September 27, 2009 at the age of 102 years. Predeceased by her parents, Amsey and Maggie (nee Groff) Schweitzer; sisters, Vera and Olive; brother, Wilfred and wife Marion and nephew, Paul Schweitzer. Survived by special niece, Shirley Schweitzer; best loved cousin, Mary Margaret Reist and many wonderful friends. Especially cared for by Ruby Bennett, Mary Margaret Reist, Shirley Schweitzer and Judy Weldon. Dorothy was a member of First United Church, Waterloo and former member of Bloomingdale United Church where she played the organ and piano for over eighty years, starting to play for Sunday School at age 12. She sang and played piano in early radio broadcasts, accompanied various singers and choirs and played for many weddings and Sunday afternoon sing-alongs. Dorothy volunteered at the Sunnyside home for 25 years playing the piano for birthday parties and special functions. Dorothy lived a full and rich life, a life overflowing with a vitality and energy all her own. She supported musicians by providing scholarships to students in the music programs at Wilfrid Laurier University and KW Youth Orchestra. She supported the KW Symphony for over fifty years, St. Paul's College (UW), the Renaissance Singers and many other worthwhile causes that were close to her heart. Dorothy's fine artworks are displayed throughout the community; the Eby Coat of Arms (hooked) in the Eby Room at the Kitchener Library; the Brubacher Coat of Arms (hooked) in the Brubacher Museum at the University of Waterloo and the Last Supper (needle-point) in the Chapel of St. Paul's United College. Dorothy was made a life member of the Kitchener Horticultural Society for her many contributions to the Rockway Gardens planting trees, supplying benches and helping restore the fountains. She held an honorary life pass to Doon Pioneer Village (Doon Heritage Crossroads). At Dorothy's request cremation has taken place with interment at Memory Garden's, Breslau. A memorial service to celebrate her life will be held on Thursday, October 8, 2009, at 10:30 a.m. at First United Church, 16 William Street, Waterloo with Rev. Richard Hawley officiating. Shantz. - Franklin Shantz, son of Moses and Susannah Shantz, was born Sept. 14, 1856; died at his home in Waterloo, Ont., Jan. 1, 1929; aged 72 y. 3 m. 17 d. He was married to Leah Groff who predeceased him nearly five years ago. He united with the Mennonite Church in early life in which faith he died. He was of a quiet disposition, but we believe his walk and conduct spoke louder than his words. He expressed himself as being ready to meet his Lord and had a desire to depart. He leaves 3 sons, 3 daughters, 1 adopted daughter, 26 grandchildren, 4 brothers, and 5 sisters, besides a host of relatives and friends. Funeral services were conducted at the home by Bro. Noah Hunsberger and at the Waterloo Mennonite Church by Bros. Jesse Martin and Jonas Snider.

Waterloo Region Record 31 Dec 2011

Reta Verna Bearinger (F) was born on 2 Mar 1919 in Waterloo Twp., Waterloo Region, Ontario, Canada,[1440] died on 15 Feb 2018 in Kitchener Daily Record Newspaper, Kitchener, , Ontario, Canada, at age 98, and was buried in Erb Street Mennonite Cemetery, Waterloo City, Waterloo Region, Ontario, Canada.

BEARINGER, Reta Verna March 2, 1919 - February 15, 2018 Reta died peacefully at Innisfree House in Kitchener on Thursday, February 15, 2018 in her 99th year. Dear sister of Willard Bearinger and aunt of many nieces and nephews and their families. Predeceased by her parents, Ephraim and Annie (Shantz) Bearinger; siblings, Irene (Ernest) Mount, Melvin (Margaret) Bearinger, Beulah (Arthur) Weber, Mabel (Ephraim) Martin, Olive (Wesley) Brubacher, Aleda (Fred) Stanbury, Howard (Jessie) Bearinger, Violet (Gerald) Pitts; and sister-in-law, Lee Bearinger (wife of Willard). Reta grew up on a Waterloo farm which is now part of Lakeshore Village. When her parents Ephraim and Annie retired, she moved with them to Bricker Street in Waterloo. From there, she walked to work at Sun Life (Mutual Life) daily. She retired after 47 years of service. Reta was a longtime member of Erb Street Mennonite Church and for many years arranged the flowers for the sanctuary. She travelled the world with her good friend Jean Kuntz. She also explored Ontario's provincial parks, conservation and picnic areas in the company of her sisters and nieces. These Sunday treks always included hamburgers cooked on a hibachi. A fold up table and chairs were also included as many spots didn't have picnic tables available. After retirement, she enjoyed appliqueing quilts for the Mennonite Relief Sale in New Hamburg. She and her twin sister Aleda loved to sit in the stands to watch the auction. She created the centerpiece for the 50th anniversary quilt for the sale. Reta was always interested in news, reading the newspaper, doing crosswords and the jumble until the last days of her life. She will be missed. Relatives and friends are invited to share memories of Reta during Visitation at the Erb & Good Family Funeral Home , 171 King St. S., Waterloo on Monday, February 19, 2018 from 10 - 10:45 a.m. A Memorial Service will be held in the Funeral Home Chapel at 11:00 a.m. A reception will immediately follow the service in the Funeral Home's Fireside Room. A Private Family Interment will be held at Erb Street Mennonite Cemetery. Condolences for the family and memorial donations to Innisfree House (Hospice) or Erb Street Mennonite Church may be arranged by contacting the funeral home.

Richard James Cressman

Richard Cressman died on Monday November 23rd in New Hamburg, Ontario at the age of 67. He struggled with mental health for half his life and that struggle became too great. He died by suicide.

Loving husband of Susan (Bearinger). Father of Sara Cressman (David Martin), Amanda Cressman (Bryan Peters), and Karrie Cornies (Dan). Adored Papa to Addison, Maisie, Elaina and Caleb. He was predeceased by his parents Gladys and Clayton Cressman and parents-in-law Jessie and Howard Bearinger. Richard wore many hats during his life - farmer, public speaker, counsellor, advice giver, thinker, designer/builder/tinkerer of many interesting machines and contraptions, shoe modifier, boat navigator, and collector of wooden roosters. He loved selling Pioneer Seeds and the opportunity it provided for him to connect with farmers. He was involved in the New Hamburg Lions Club, Waterloo Federation of Agriculture and Nith Valley Mennonite Church.

He was a good listener and really enjoyed getting to know people. He valued every friend, neighbour, and farmer in his life. He cared for all of you.

Richard was a son, husband, father, brother, uncle, grandfather, neighbour and friend. He will be missed by so many. To those of you who knew and loved Richard, take your time to mourn and grieve your loss knowing that he is at peace.

There are two ways to mourn with the family. Video visitation messages can be made to the family and a drive-by visitation will take place on Sunday November 29th from 2:00pm-4:00pm and 6:00pm-8:00pm at Nith Valley Mennonite Church at 1355 Bean Rd, New Hamburg.

Bauman.-Lydia Ann, daughter of Abram G. and Mary (Eby) Groff, was born in Waterloo Twp., Ont., Nov. 27, 1862; passed away at her home, Kitchener, Ont., May 8, 1949; aged 86 y. 5 m. 11 d. At the age of nine, through the influence of a Christian school teacher, she accepted Christ and at the age of sixteen united with the Christian Eby Mennonite Church, Berlin, Ont., which is now the First Mennonite Church of Kitchener. On Feb. 7, 1886, she was united in marriage to Silas Bauman. A few years after their marriage he became deacon of the Mennonite Church at Floradale. Forty years of her life thereafter were spent near Floradale. Her husband predeceased her on Jan. 21, 1913. Surviving are 8 children (Norman and Silas, Leetonia, Ohio; Oliver and Edmund, Kitchener, Ont.; Irvin, Salem, Ohio; James. Oyster Point, Va.; Louida and Salome, Kitchener, Ont.), 2 brothers (Abram, Winnipeg, Man.; and Jacob, Hamilton, Ont.), 2 sisters (Mrs. Ira Bauman, Waterloo, Ont.; and Mrs. Frank Meier, Paris, Ont.), 16 grandchildren, and 6 great-grandchildren. Two daughters (Mary and Ada) and 3 sons (Caleb, Isaiah, and Ephraim) preceded her in death. She was a true "mother in Israel." Her fellowship and counsel were widely sought; her influence extended far beyond her own congregation and denomination. During the latter years of her life she was a faithful and much-appreciated member of the First Mennonite Church, Kitchener. Funeral services were held at the home by O. D. Snider and at the church by Merle Shantz, assisted by A. R. Shelly. Burial was made in the North Woolwich Cemetery.

BAUMAN. - Silas Bauman was born in Waterloo Twp., Waterloo, Co., Ont., Aug. 27, 1861; died Jan. 21, 1913; aged 51y. 4m. 25d. He was married to Lydia Ann Groff in 1886. To this union were born 9 sons and 4 daughters. Two of the oldest sons preceded him to the world beyond. He leaves a sorrowing widow, 11 children all at home, an aged father, 6 brothers, 1 sister, and a large community of neighbors and friends. He was converted in his early years and joined the Mennonite Church and remained a faithful member. He was ordained to the office of deacon 16 years ago and performed his duties faithfully. He was ailing for a few months and by examination of the doctors it was found that a growth in the stomach was the cause. The doctor told him his case was serious. He was consecrated to the Lord and set his possessions in order and waited patiently for the end. He was in sound mind within three hours of death. He chose his text, I Pet. 1. He also appointed A.B. Gingerich to preach in German and O.D. Snider in English. Funeral Jan. 24 was largely attended and long to be remembered. Buried in the cemetery adjoining his home. The beyond was more precious to him as he drew nigh. He expressed himself, "Death shall not destroy my comfort, Christ shall guide me through the gloom."

Salome Bauman: teacher and role model, was born 27 March 1909 on the family farm north of Floradale, Ontario to Silas Bauman (27 August 1861-21 January 1913) and Lydia Ann Groff Bauman (27 November 1862-8 May 1949). She was the youngest in a family of 13 -- nine boys and four girls. The family was one of the few in the Floradale community that did not go with the Old Order Mennonites in the division of 1889. Silas and Lydia Ann became charter members of the Floradale Mennonite Church, and Silas was ordained as a deacon in 1896. Both Silas and Lydia Ann were regular contributors of articles to the Herald of Truth and the Gospel Herald. The early death of Salome's father from cancer in 1913 (as well as the deaths in 1907 and 1908 of the two oldest sons) meant the family was poor.

Despite her difficult early years, the family encouraged Salome to further her education, and she boarded for a time in Elmira in order to attend "Middle School." After Lydia Ann moved to Kitchener with the youngest children in the mid-1920s, Salome finished her high school at Kitchener Collegiate Institute, and graduated with the highest marks in Waterloo County. After a year of normal school she taught first grade in the public school system for 12 years....

Albert and Anna had wanted to marry sooner than they did but when they approached their minister (name unknown), he refused to marry them and suggested that they wait a while. When they approached him a second time, he again refused to marry them. This refusal was due to the fact that Anna's father did not want Anna to marry "a cripple" and had convinced the minister that he should not marry them. Anna had previously worked for Bishop Jonas Snider so they asked him to marry them. He not only conducted the marriage ceremony when Albert married Anna S Shantz, but also performed the marriage ceremony when Albert married Martha G Bauman.

FEICK, Beatrice March 11, 1927 - February 27, 2012 Beatrice Habermehl Feick was born to Albert and Martha Habermehl on March 11, 1927 at St. Jacob's, Ontario. Her life's journey took her to Northern Ontario, Toronto, Elora and Cottam, Ontario, Luseland, Saskatchewan and finally to Saskatoon. In each place she made many friends and blessed many lives. She experienced numerous challenges in her life but always found a way to make the best of them and even to overcome them. Though they lost two of their own children, Beatrice and Ed were adopted as mom and dad by someone in almost every community in which they lived. Growing flowers, stitching quilts and doting on her grandchildren were her passions, and she always had time for anyone who came to visit. Beatrice died Monday, February 27 at Luther Special Care Home, Saskatoon, Saskatchewan. Left to mourn her passing are her husband of 57 years, Ed Feick, her son Dave and his wife Joanne and their children, Carissa and Eric Boschmann, Jason and Scott, her sisters: Alice Weber and friend Ray Erb, Doris and Bill Ermel, in-laws: Eileen Habermehl, Don Snider, Aileen Feick, Jim Feick and Liz Shiell, Grace and Edward Snider, many nieces and nephews and their families as well as many, many dear friends. Beatrice was predeceased by her parents, Albert and Martha Habermehl, her children, Larry and Barbara, her older siblings and their spouses, Vera and Eli Bauman, Ada and Norman Buhler, Edna Habermehl, Clayton and Olga Habermehl, Erma and Elvin Drudge, Ida Habermehl, Rita Habermehl (in infancy), younger brother Leonard Habermehl. Fake snake gets Cambridge man banned from council meetings for a third time
Allan Dettweiler not allowed to attend city meetings for one year

CAMBRIDGE - Allan Dettweiler, who coiled a fake snake around his neck at a city council meeting last month, is now banned from those meetings for a full year.

It's the Preston resident's second ban from council chambers this year, to go along with a three-month sanction for an outburst at a January meeting.

Before a past election, video evidence allegedly showed him dropping "Ditch Donna" cards on chairs in the chambers, urging voters to unseat incumbent councillor Donna Reid. That earned him a one-month stay-away order.

But this ban is the first to involve a mock reptile he calls Sammy.

"I never thought somebody would go snaky over a snake," said Dettweiler, a city resident off-and-on for decades and a more-than-occasional observer at council meetings.

That is, a wooden snake that is two or three feet long.

Dettweiler is forbidden from entering city hall, old town hall or municipal premises to participate in meetings or municipal functions for 12 months, according to a June 26 letter from city clerk Michael Di Lullo.

The letter, which Dettweiler received this week, says he is banned because there is video evidence that he brought an "apparatus" with him into council chambers on June 4. That apparatus was his wooden snake.

"That is correct," Di Lullo said in an email to the Record on Friday. The clerk will be leaving his job in Cambridge to become chief administrator for Middlesex Centre on Aug. 6.

Di Lullo's letter didn't mention the wooden snake, so Dettweiler was bewildered at first.

"I have my walker with me but I don't think that's it," said Dettweiler, a past provincial and federal election candidate who has run for the Libertarian party in Cambridge, Kitchener-Waterloo and Huron-Bruce as far back as 1990.

"Then I got thinking about it. I took my snake, my fake snake along one night. It's a wooden snake. It's kind of made up into a hundred little sections so it wiggles around. It fools a lot of people, but it's wooden. I put it around my neck. He might have hissed a few times. I might have helped him."

Dettweiler, who ran against current mayor Kathryn McGarry in past provincial elections, said he got no warning about his fake snake on June 4.

McGarry said she and Di Lullo decided on the one-year ban in the wake of Dettweiler's three-month ban from January.

"You just cannot have the public acting in an intimidating way to either members of council or staff or the public," McGarry said. "In his case ... we've looked at former history."

When followup sanctions are applied, the length of such ban is often increased.

"We need to up this amount of time now so that they get the message," McGarry said.

The letter speaks of Dettweiler's conduct at the meeting and the "not appropriate" apparatus he brought with him into council chambers.

"The City has an expectation for members of the public that they will behave in an orderly fashion during the meetings of council," the letter states.

"Your actions during the meeting on June 4, 2019 (are) unacceptable and will not be tolerated. I would suggest that you familiarize yourself with the public decorum policy that the city has for members of the public."

Dettweiler says he seldom speaks as a delegation at council. But at a January meeting, he delivered a brief verbal outburst from the gallery.

He wonders what might happen if he defies the ban.

"I'm tempted to go down to the council chambers with some other thing to see if they call the cops," he said. "I think the cops might have a laugh at it. They might tell me to get going. But a snake? A snake? Sammy. My pet snake."

Mary Ann Martin[1704] (F) was born on 14 Apr 1876 in Elmira, Woolwich Twp., Waterloo Region, Ontario, Canada,[1766] died on 6 Oct 1877,[1766] at age 1, and was buried in Elmira Mennonite Cemetery, Elmira, Waterloo Region, Ontario, Canada.[1766]

Angeline Martin[1767] (F) was born in Nov 1878 in Elmira, Woolwich Twp., Waterloo Region, Ontario, Canada,[1768] died on 27 Feb 1942 in Wilmot Twp., Waterloo Region, Ontario, Canada,[1769] at age 63, and was buried in Blenheim Mennonite Cemetery, Blenheim Township, Oxford Co., Ontario.[1770]

Noted events in her life were:

- She resided at Mennonite in 1891 in Elmira, Woolwich Twp., Waterloo Region, Ontario, Canada.[1714]
- She resided at Mennonite in 1911 in New Dundee, Wilmot Twp., Waterloo Region, Ontario, Canada.[1771]

Angeline married Gilbert Bergey,[1772] son of Deacon David E. Bergey[1773] and Louisa Bowman,.[1774] Gilbert was born on 13 Sep 1877 in Wilmot Twp., Waterloo Region, Ontario, Canada,[1775] died on 15 Jan 1950 in Galt (Cambridge), Waterloo Region, Ontario, Canada,[1769] at age 72, and was buried in Blenheim Mennonite Cemetery, Blenheim Township, Oxford Co., Ontario.[1770] They had two children: William and David Dalton.

Bergey, Gilbert (1877-1950)

"Gilbert Bergey, church leader and dairy farmer; b.13 September, 1877 in Waterloo County, Ontario to David and Louisa (Bowman) Bergey . He was the eldest son in a family of four sons and three daughters. On 8 October 1902 he married Angeline (Angie) Martin (19 November 1877-27 February 1942) in Elmira. They were members of the Blenheim Mennonite Church near New Dundee and took up residence on the Bergey dairy farm. They had one son, David. Gilbert Bergey died 16 January 1950 and was buried at the Blenheim Mennonite Church.

Both Gilbert and Angie taught Sunday School classes. As a young man, Gilbert taught the Young Ladies' Class; his next assignment was the Mothers' Class. Angie found her niche in teaching the Beginners' Class. Gilbert led congregational singing using a "tuning fork" to get the pitch; he was never known to falter when the music was written in "shaped notes".

In 1921, Gilbert's father, David Bergey, the aged deacon at Blenheim asked to step back from active service. When the voice of the congregation was sought and the lot was cast, it fell on Gilbert who succeeded his father as deacon on 17 July 1921 . He also followed his father as secretary of the Mennonite Conference of Ontario from 1922-1940. He also served on the conference Welfare Board organized to assist indigent widows and orphans and to counsel persons in financial difficulty within the Ontario conference constituency.
In his vocation as a dairy farmer, Gilbert processed most of his milk supply into cheese which he sold at a nearby Farmers Market. He also sent a small quantity of milk to the local New Dundee Co-Operative Creamery. This led to a call on his counseling skills by non-Mennonite neighbors. In the mid 1930s a sharp controversy arose between the co-operative's directors and its patrons. Due to Gilbert Bergey's reputation in as a skillful mediator, he was elected as a director. It was a demanding request to which he responded with hesitation but served with integrity.

Gilbert Bergey has a quiet and cheerful nature. He was sought by many for his wise counsel; he was a stable voice in the Ontario Mennonite community in the decades prior to World War II."

Lorna Lucille Shantz

BERGEY, Lorna Lucille (nee Shantz) - Died peacefully at Cambridge Memorial Hospital, on Saturday, March 22, 2009, in her 88th years. Lorna was the loving wife of the late David D. Bergey who predeceased her in 1980. Survived by sons, Edward (Karen Rudy) and Robert (Linda Penner) both of Brampton, Grandchildren Christopher (Lisa Moretti) Bergey of Woodbridge, Suzanne (Jeremy) Stacey of Brampton. Fondly remembered by eight great-grandchildren. Also survived by siblings, Jean Culb (Vineland), Kenneth and Marie Shantz, Wilbur and Kay Shantz, Joanne Hunsberger, Beth and Paul Good all of New Hamburg and Kathryn Leatherman of Elkhart, Indiana and sister-in-law, Vaughn Waddle. Predeceased by Clyde Shantz. Lorna was a resident of Fairview Suites, Cambridge and formerly resided in Eastwood Community (Kitchener), Haysville and New Dundee. In 1988 Lorna retired form Bergey's Cheese that she and her husband David had operated for 38 years. She tirelessly volunteered her time and held leadership positions throughout her life in a variety of Mennonite Church and Community organizations. These include Mennonite Women's Mission Service Commission, New Dundee Public Library, Doon Pioneer Village, North Waterloo Cancer Society, Waterloo Historical Society, Historical Committee of the Mennonite Church of North America, Mennonite Archives of Ontario (Conrad Grebel), Pennsylvania Folklore Society of Ontario, Mennonite Historical Society of Canada, Mennonite Bi-Centennial Commission, MCEC Historical Committee, Mennonite Historical Society of Canada, Mennonite Historical Society of Ontario and Ontario Mennonite Credit Union, in many of these organizations Lorna pioneered as the first woman to hold leadership positions. Lorna was a fervent supporter of the Mennonite Church through the Mennonite Central Committee, Mennonite Foundation, and Mennonite Economic Development Association. Her encyclopedic knowledge of Mennonite History allowed her to assist many history writers over several decades. In addition to her long list of historical articles and sketches she has also been an acknowledged source in many local histories. At the time of her death, Lorna was a member of the First Mennonite Church, Kitchener. Relatives and friends may visit at Ratz-Bechtel Funeral Home and Chapel (621 King St. W., Kitchener) on Friday from 2-4 and 7-9 p.m. Funeral Services will be held at First Mennonite Church (800 King St. E., Kitchener) on Saturday March 28, 2009 at 10 a.m. As expressions of sympathy donations may be made to Mennonite Central Committee by calling the funeral home at 519-745-9495.

The Waterloo Region Record - Mar. 24, 2009

A lover of local history

As one of Waterloo Region's most respected Mennonite historians, Lorna Bergey was honoured many times. Academics called on her vast knowledge when writing books, yet such attention made her uncomfortable. "To her, she was just a farm wife with a Grade 8 education," said her son, Ed Bergey of Brampton. By her late 60s, Lorna was finally feeling confident and deserving of the respect, but it would never be anything she'd brag about. Her Mennonite upbringing of humility meant the work was important, not the accolades. Ed said that Lorna was both "happy and mortified" at every new award.

Lorna was born the eldest of eight children to a Mennonite farming family near Baden. In Grade 8 she passed her high school entrance examinations but dreams of an education would be dashed by responsibilities at home caring for siblings and an ailing mother.

In a 2001 Record interview she said, "Can you imagine, I was only 12 years old? From this experience, I learned that girls and women were expected to serve their appointed homes, but I also learned when something needs to be done, you do it." Lorna lived up to those responsibilities even though she would also fill every free moment absorbing books and information, particularly related to her heritage.

She once said, "I don't think I ever thought of it as being interesting to anyone else. I don't think that the generation of my parents felt too comfortable exposed to the public view. For my generation, I sort of feel that credit should be given where credit is due."

Lorna's life had been about caring for others, until she met David Bergey at a church function and fell in love. Her father, however, dictated there would be no marriage until she turned 19. "On May 29, on her 19th birthday, she got married," Ed said. The couple raised two sons, Ed and Robert, while running a farm, though due to poor financial returns David sold his cattle, did contract work for other farmers and expanded a cheese-making business at their farm, started as a sideline by his grandmother in 1872.

In 1954 David was seriously injured after plunging 14 metres from a silo. He spent the rest of his life in and out of hospital. It was up to Lorna to take charge. According to her sons, she did a splendid job. She built Bergey Cheese into a profitable business by closing down their own small cheese-making operation and selling selected products from other companies. Eventually Bergey Cheese ran stores in Toronto and Hamilton as well as vendors' stalls at five farmers' markets.

"There was no health insurance in those days," Lorna once recalled. "So two years of mounting medical bills made it a sink-or-swim proposition. It was our bread and butter."

In 1988, eight years after David died, Lorna closed the successful business, which gave her time to pursue historical research.

In 2001, she was part of a documentary produced by the Pennsylvania German Folklore Society of Ontario and she was a veteran volunteer archivist at Conrad Grebel University College, largely responsible for creating the Mennonite collection.

"She was very gifted at getting people to donate things," said Sam Steiner, now a retired archivist at the college. He talked about how Lorna stayed on to help him after he was hired in 1974 and how her rich, detailed stories gave vibrancy to historical facts. She was "the person who helped to gather the building blocks for people writing about history."

Lorna was also the first woman to serve in leadership roles in numerous Mennonite historical societies. Sam remembers her as a serious woman, plainly dressed and never without a hat. Ed added that while his mother was not the soft, cuddly sort, she was a good mother, one they admired for her resilience, her toughness and honesty. "She took life as it came and lived her faith," said Ed.

Shantz - Bishop Moses H. Shantz, eldest son of the late Solomon and Mary Ann (Hostetler) Shantz, was born near Haysville, Ont., Sept. 10, 1884; died at his home near New Dundee, Ont., Aug. 14, 1938; aged 53 y. 11 m. 4 d. He had been under medical care for a few years, due to a heart ailment. This became more severe during the last few weeks, and was the cause of his sudden passing on Sunday morning.

He was converted and was received into the fellowship of the Church at the age of fourteen. Oct. 13, 1907, he was ordained a minister, and pastor of the Blenheim congregation. Besides being actively engaged in pastoral work in these thirty years, he also served the Church in many other positions. He was elected Moderator of the Mennonite Conference of Ontario for ten consecutive years, from 1922 to 1932. He also served as President of the Mennonite Mission Board of Ontario for several years after its organization in 1929. At the time of his death he was a member of the Board of the Ontario Mennonite Bible School.

In 1933 he was elected Vice-President of the Mennonite Publication Board, and two years later became President of this organization, which position he occupied at the time of his death. On Sunday, July 24, 1938, he was ordained a bishop in the Mennonite Conference of Ontario, his especial charge being the congregation at Clarence Center, N. Y.

On March 4, 1908, he was married to Catherine Martin of Elmira, Ont. They lived on his farm south of Haysville until 1923, when they moved to their present residence opposite the Blenheim Church near New Dundee. There survive to mourn his passing, his wife, 1 son (Gordon), and 2 daughters (Luella and Mary). One son (Vernon) predeceased him in 1911. There also remain 1 brother (Ephraim of Haysville) and 4 sisters (Mrs. John E. Bingaman of New Hamburg, Mrs. Titus L. Kolb of Kitchener, Mrs. Jos. Saltzman of Petersburg, and Mrs. Frank Miller of Millersburg, O.). One sister (Mrs. Conrad Hebel) passed away several months ago.

The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 17, and was largely attended, over one thousand people being present from many communities to pay tribute to the passing of a brother, a friend, and a fellow worker. The funeral service was in charge of Bishop S. F. Coffman. The service at the house was conducted by Bishops M. Hallman and M. H. Roth. The Brethren, Silas Weldy of Indiana and Jesse Short of Ohio, conducted the devotional at the church. Bro. D. A. Yoder of Elkhart, Ind., preached the funeral sermon. Text, I Cor. 15: 24-27. A few words of tribute were given by Bros. A. J. Metzler of Scottdale, Pa., and Oscar Burkholder of Breslau. Closing prayer was offered by Bishop Jonas Snider. The burial service at the grave was conducted by Bro. S. F. Coffman, interment in Blenheim Cemetery

Shantz, Moses H. (1884-1938)

Moses H. Shantz: church leader and farmer; born 10 September 1884 near Haysville, Ontario to Solomon and Mary Ann (Hostetler) Shantz. He was the oldest in a family of two sons and five daughters. On 4 March 1908 he married Catherine Martin (9 March 1885-4 December 1974) of Elmira, Ontario. They had two sons (one died in 1911) and two daughters. Moses died 14 August 1938 of a heart attack at his home across from the Blenheim Mennonite Church near New Dundee, Ontario.

Moses Shantz was a farmer by vocation, working the home farm until 1923. The family then moved to the farm where he died. He was baptized in 1898, and was immediately active in the Sunday school and Bible Conferences of the day. He was among the first class of students in the Ontario Mennonite Bible School in early 1907 and on 13 October 1907 was ordained as a minister for the Blenheim Mennonite Church, his home congregation. On 24 July 1938 he was ordained as a bishop, particularly to serve the congregation at Clarence Center, New York. However he died before he was able to make any visits as bishop to that congregation.

As was common for his day, Shantz did not have much formal education, though he had a life-long interest in reading. His personality was empathetic, an asset in his pastoral relationships. He had a good memory for names, and related easily to persons of many backgrounds. His preaching style was "heart to heart" rather than "sermonizing." A co-worker, S. F. Coffman , described Shantz as "a remarkable helper to others on account of his deeply sympathetic nature. He could enter into their problems with understanding and appreciation; he felt with them their burdens and and their sorrows; then, with the most kindly manner, he led them to wise decisions and to the comfort of Christian attitudes in all of their problems."

His administrative gifts led Moses H. Shantz to numerous leadership roles both in his area conference and within the larger Mennonite Church. He served as moderator of the Mennonite Conference of Ontario from 1922-1932, and again from 1934-1936. From 1932-1934 he was assistant moderator. He became Vice-President of the Mennonite Mission Board of Ontario in 1929 when missions activity within the conference was reorganized, and he served in that role until 1936. In his active promotion of mission work, Shantz traveled often to the mission stations. He also served on the oversight board for the Ontario Mennonite Bible School.

Within the denomination Shantz served on the Canadian Section of the Peace Problems Committee, and a number of times on the Committee on Arrangements for General Conference. In 1933 he was elected as Vice-President of the Mennonite Publication Board, and in 1935 became President of that Board, serving until his death.

Moses H. Shantz suffered health (heart) problems in his later years, and his premature death removed a calm, mediating voice from the Ontario Mennonite scene at a time when fractious doctrinal issues created tension within the conference. His stature in the Mennonite community is indicated by the number of persons who attended his funeral -- over one thousand in all, including visitors from Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania and New York.

SOLOMON KAUFMAN.

You may imagine that I have made a sudden jump from Waterloo four or five miles into the interior of Oxford county. But as I had met Mr. Kaufman on a previous occasion and he being a native of Waterloo county, I felt a desire to call at the home of one of the largest land owners in the Province. I had the satisfaction of being well repaid for the time occupied, though not in a dollars or cents point of view, as Mr. Kaufman is not the kind of man who desires newspaper notoriety through financial remuneration. And here it may also be added that such is not the case in regard to any of the farmers I have visited. The object is to give the rural readers of the most popular paper in the county among the farmers something that is interesting and probably beneficial to many, and in this particular I have striven to avoid exaggeration invariably.

Mr. Kaufman lives in a brick residence convenient to the road on bis farm of 320 acres, but he has retired from farming, the farm being now under the entire management of his son, Albert E. Kaufman, and the fact that he thoroughly understands the handling of cattle and horses can not be disputed. He has for several years operated a creamery, but recently abandoned that branch, and has turned his attention to the breeding of thoroughbred cattle, his favorite breed being Polled Angus, and he lately purchased the splendid herd formerly owned by W. W. Ogilvie, of Montreal. If I am not mistaken there are about thirty-two in the herd, and there is not an inferior looking animal in the lot. The cows are exceptionally fine looking animals, and a number of them are first prize winners.

"Royal Blackbird," of Cregston, as to necessary points in a thoroughbred animal, is bound to be an easy prize winner. He is the individual which carried off third prize at the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago. I also noticed three yearlings that are very promising animals, and will undoubtedly prove formidable rivals in the show ring. The grand dam of Royal Blackbird was sold for $2,300.

Mr. Kaufman's favorite stock, previous to his introducing the Polled Angus breed, were Jerseys. A number of very fine animals he has yet on hand.

The "King of Blenheim," a Jersey bull, four years old, has a coat as fine as silk. The latter, with a fine Jersey cow, he sold for a handsome figure a few days ago to Mr. Reid from near Berlin. He has several Jersey cows that average fifty pounds of milk per day. He has also a number of very promising Jersey calves. While his Jerseys are hard to beat, his herd of Polled Angus cattle will prove to be a profitable investment. He also has on hand quite a large number of fine stock cattle.

In his stable are a number of handsome horses, and in the lot is a blooded pacer that possesses all the points of a record breaker.

His stable room is 130x75, with stalls for one hundred head of cattle. All apparatus necessary for rapid and convenient feeding is supplied. A tramway is constructed through the entire length of the main gangway, and upon which a large trough on trucks containing the apartments needed for the different kinds of feed used, is propelled to any part of the gangway.

The Kaufman family is saddened to announce the death of Ruth Kaufman on November 29th, 2023 in her 94th year.

Ruth was the beloved wife of the late Gordon (2017) for more than 67 years. She will be remembered and missed by their children Judith Sangster, Don (Janet), David (Mary Beckett), Barbara Hernandez (Fred), Bruce (Sonia Tyhonchuk), and Robin (Patricia Mannard). She was the proud grandmother of Tim Sangster (Jane Robertson), Kyle Sangster (Stephanie Groh), Mark (Meli), Jennifer, and Sara Kaufman (Jesse Bridge), Rebecca (Scott Reesor), Caroline (J.P. Hervieux), Ben and Amanda Kaufman (Chris Lavelle), Brenda, Bonifacio and Samuel Hernandez, Rae and Grace Kaufman. She was "Grandma Ruth" to great-grandchildren Charlie Sangster, Dawson Sangster, Zoe and Maren Bridge, Tennessee Kaufman, Levi and Maya Kaufman, Rowan, Gavin, Alden and Braxton Lavelle, and Jaciel Hernandez. Friends and extended family will miss Ruth, including brother-in-law Rev. Doug (Jean) and sister-in-law Wendy Kaufman. Ruth's son R. Mark, brother-in-law Richard Kaufman, brother John Robertson (Frances), and sisters Agnes Spencer (Harry), Ina Chalk (Bill) and Beth Hyslop (Bill) predeceased her.

Ruth was a proud democratic socialist active in the CCF and the NDP, locally and provincially. She was a lifelong volunteer who contributed her "time, talents and treasures" to many organizations including: Amnesty International, Harcourt United Church and UCW, Waterloo Presbytery, Raging Grannies, the Guelph Community Health Centre and a credit union for teachers that she and Gord ran from their basement. Ruth maintained friendships for decades with Norma Stubbs, Mary Wray, Dorothy Fleming and members of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church's (Galt) young people's group, always referring to them as "the young people". Ruth and Gord generously opened their doors at both home and cottage – Kaufman's Family Circle on Georgian Bay, whether it was to host family and friends, or offer a cold drink to a stranger hiking the Bruce Trail. Ruth loved to travel – cruises became her favourite – never passing up an opportunity to take a spin on the dance floor with her beloved Gord, and taking in a sunset with a glass of dry white wine with ice cubes.

Cremation has taken place. A celebration of Ruth's life will be held on Monday, December 11, 2023 at 11:00 am at Harcourt United Church, 87 Dean Ave., Guelph. For anyone that wishes to watch remotely can do so via YouTube using this link. Reception to follow after the service.

THE OLD SCHOOLHOUSE

An interesting meeting took place the Saturday before last in the old log cabin in Waterloo Park.

This house was, of course, the first schoolhouse in this area and stood originally on the school-house square at the corner of King and Church Streets in Waterloo. It was built in 1820 and served its purpose until 1842, when it was torn down and a 1-storey stone house was constructed on the site. The dismantled log house was erected again in Greenbush and served as a residence for a long time for the coloured man, Mr. Carroll and his family. In the course of this year, the Waterloo Park Commissioners purchased the house, moved it to their park and furnished it again as it was when it was a school-house.

At this gathering, in addition to many other ladies and gentlemen, the following (male and female) former pupils attended, took their places on the benches, and were called to order by the 82-year-old teacher, Benjamin Burkholder, who held the scepter, or rather, the switch, from 1831 to 1842 in the old log-house: Joel Guth, 80 years old; Abraham Scherk, Blair, 79; Jakob Bricker, Waterloo, 77; Sarah Burkholder, nee Erb, Bridgeport, 75; Amos Weber, Berlin, 73; John C, Bricker, Hawksville, 71; Maria Erb, nee Quickfall, Norwich 69; David B. Eby, Waterloo, 69; Wendel Baumann, Woolwich, 68; Henry Stauffer, Erbsville, 67; Simon Beatty, Elmira, 67; Jakob Ratz, New Hamburg, 67; Israel Baumann, Berlin, 65; George Elbert, Moorefield, 63; George H. Baumann, Elmira, 63; John Devitt, Waterloo, 62; Richard Quickfall, Bridgeport, 62; Isaak Hoffmann, Waterloo, 61; Robert Barkwell, Peel, 60; Diana McMahon, nee Dekay, Berlin, 60; Thomas Quickfall, Floradale, 60; Benjamin Devitt, Waterloo, 60; Isaak Devitt, Floradale, 58; John Longmann, Peel, 57. In addition, to these, the teacher read the names of 25 pupils from the roll; they were, however, absent.

Mr. Burkholder gave an interesting talk about the history of the old school-house, and after him, Rev. J.A. MacLachlan, Rev. J. McNair, Mr. J.E. Baumann, M.P., and Mr. Jakob Ratz spoke about the old days which brought many things out of the past to mind again. School was, as a rule, only in session in winter and the costs were borne by the parents of the children. There were few subjects taught, namely: Reading, Writing and Sums. The children heard little about language, and geography; no child had more than 2 or 3 books. The predominant language was German. The pupils learned to read and write English, but didn't understand a word of it. Among the teachers in the old school-house from 1820-1842, with the exception of Mr. Burkholder, were the following whose names are still recognized: Jephtha DeKay, Joseph Guth, John Herringer, Peter Otto, John Dobbin, Elias Eby, Robert Barber, & Joseph Eby.

After those present, on hearing the various speeches felt themselves transported back to the past, the school was closed at four o'clock and the pupils were gathered together in front of the school and photographed as a group. On their return into the school, they found it had been transformed into a dining room with heavily-laden tables, which the old-timers thoroughly enjoyed. After everyone had chatted cordially for a while longer, the gathering broke up. The company will not meet again in complete numbers, nor in such a way.

Passing of a Pioneer
Mr. Richard Quickfall Died This Afternoon at the Age of 77 Years

A host of people, throughout the district will be deeply grieved to learn of the death this afternoon of Richard M. Quickfall, one of the most widely known and hihly respected residents of this district, in his 78th year.

The deceased came to Canada with his parents from near Syracuse, N.Y., over seventy years ago. The family located on a farm near Bridgeport, then known as the Ziegler farm. Some years later the family moved to the Moxley farm, whence the deceased grew up, succeeding to the property on the death of his father. In 1889 Mr. Quickfall moved to a farm near Lexington, residing there until about six years ago, when he retired from active life and took up his residence in Bridgeport. Mrs. Quickfall passed away in April of this year and since that time the deceased had resided with his son Mr. Albert Quickfall, David Street. He had been ill for about six weeks, death being due to his advanced age.
In the death of Richard Quickfall, Waterloo County loses one of its few remaining pioneers. He was known and beloved throughout the district, and to be numbered among his friends was accounted a high honor. Progressive in his ideas he prospered financially, but the spirit of charity was strong within hom and many have received from him a heloing hand. His kindly and cheerful character endeared him to all with whom he came in contact, and his passing will bring sorrow to many homes.

He could tell of Berlin when it was but a mere village and his intimate friends were frequently entertained by interesting reminiscences of the early days in this country.

In politics the deceased was a Reformed. He was an adherent of the Methodist church.

The survivors are three sons, Messrs. Albert, David Street, Berlin; Allen E., on the farm; and Charles of Berlin. Two sisters, Mrs. Bowers of Minnesota, and Mrs. Devitt, of Burlington, who survive.
The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

Barb Quickfall, 74, died April 9, 2015 at Grand River Community Health Centre in Kitchener. Born June 8, 1940 in Kitchener to David "Warren" & Kathleen "Kay" Jennie (Lough) Boettger. Loving wife of Herbert Arthur Quickfall for 52 years. Cherished mother of Heather & John Leffler, Rick Quickfall, Phil Quickfall & Heather Godwin. Much loved Grandmother of Sarah and Lisa Leffler, Helen (Leffler) & Robert Smith, Max and Emma Quickfall, and Great Grandma to John Smith. Sister to Joyce & Bob Winegar, June & Dave Cunningham, and Bonnie & Greg Koehn, sister-in-law to Edith & Murray Shantz, and Alice (Quickfall) & Cam Clair. She is predeceased by her parents, husband, brother David Boettger, sister-in-law Ruth (Quickfall) & Hugh Craig. Barb will be missed by her nieces, nephews, cousins, honorary grandchildren, friends and neighbours. Barb loved the family farm on Kraft Drive, where she made a welcoming home for her family and countless guests. Herb and Barb hosted many youth through the Lions and other youth exchange programs. They made friends across Canada and around the world, accepting invitations to visit many of them in their homes. Her love of history, family and community, led Barb to write The Boettger Banner and a history of her father's family, and to edit The Bridgeport News for over 30 years. As an avid reader and a member of the Waterloo Historical Society and Kitchener-Waterloo Field Naturalists, she continued to learn throughout her life. Mom loved to share what she learned with others, through discussion, newspaper clippings, pioneer nights, Mission and Service events and holiday parties. Barb loved bird watching, walking, camping and learning about nature; interests she shared with her family and friends and as a Brownie leader, Beaver leader and cook at Everton Cub Camp. Being informed and wanting to make difference, she and Herb were active members of the Liberal Party. Barb took censuses and worked in many elections, leading to her being appointed as the returning officer for Waterloo Wellington in 1997 and 2000. Her strong faith and volunteerism kept her active in the EUB and then United Church. Barb's love of music led her to sing in the choir for most of her life. She volunteered in many ways at Bridgeport United Church; served on the executive of Waterloo Presbyterial, represented her church at Waterloo Presbytery, volunteered in the Presbytery Resource Centre, and was secretary of the Camp Ganadaoweh and Hamilton Conference Camp committees. Barb served as the secretary of the Bridgeport Community Association from its formation. She helped with dances, movie afternoons and a wide variety of activities and programs run by the association at the Bridgeport Community Centre. Some of the programs she enjoyed the most were tai chi, basket weaving and watercolours. After years of sketching nature and landscapes, Mom recently developed a passion for painting and shared many of her watercolours with family and friends. Barb's family will share memories with friends at the Erb & Good Family Funeral Home 171 King St. S., Waterloo on Friday, April 24 from 2-4 p.m. and 7-9 p.m. A Celebration of Barb's Life will be held on Saturday, April 25, 2015 at 3 p.m. at the Bridgeport Community Centre, 20 Tyson Dr., Kitchener. Condolences for the family and donations to Bridgeport United Church, the Mission and Service Fund of The United Church of Canada, or your favorite charity may be arranged through the funeral home www.erbgood.com or 519-745-8445.

Richard Andrew "Rick" Quickfall (M).

Phil Quickfall (M) was born on 11 Apr 1970 in Bridgeport (Kitchener), Waterloo Region, Ontario, Canada and died on 4 Oct 2018, at age 48.

Phil Quickfall grew up in a family enriched by the world and the community

Phil Quickfall of Waterloo, born: April 11, 1970, in Bridgeport, died: Oct. 4, 2018, of a cardiac failure

by Valerie Hill Waterloo Region Record

WATERLOO - Phil Quickfall and his siblings, Heather Leffler and Rick Quickfall, grew up in a rather unconventional household.

Their parents, Herb and Barbara Quickfall, believed in welcoming the world into their huge 1835 Georgian farmhouse outside Bridgeport, home of six generations of Quickfalls, where everyone and anyone was welcome to live, hang out for awhile or just use the land.

The extended family, which includes dozens of cousins, were regular visitors or sometimes boarders and there was often exchange students from around the world living there plus the Lions Club used the house for their meetings. The place was never empty.

Outdoors, the couple had given land to a First Nations drumming group to build a sweat lodge and erect a teepee. They also turned their greenhouse over to the Working Centre for a therapeutic herb nursery, for people with mental health issues.

For her own kids, Barbara, an artist and avid outdoorswoman, would take them camping and on nature walks and there wasn't much she wouldn't allow them to do in the house. Messes were never a consideration. Barbara wanted her kids and later grandkids, to let their imaginations run free even if it meant floors would be littered with boxes and glitter.

This was the creative world Phil grew up in, a world that fed his inquisitive nature and bright mind.

Heather and Rick were nine and eight years old when this surprise little brother was born April 11, 1970. He was cute and fun to play with but the elder siblings thought perhaps their parents were a bit more lenient with him than they were with them, so they took on a parenting role.

Did Phil complain? Heather thinks not, that he mostly ignored his older siblings' bossiness.

From the time he was a kid, Phil was driven to achieve.

His love of music and stories can be attributed to his mom who would sit with him at his Suzuki violin lessons starting at age three and she would read to him and sing songs.

"When he was in (Bluevale) high school, he did everything," said Rick, noting his brother served on the student council and had won all the awards available to students, including sports, theatre and academics. The school had to create a new award to recognize his achievements.

"By the time he graduated, he was pretty sick of school," said Rick. "He had really good grades and everyone expected him to go to university."

But Phil wasn't ready, he needed a break and took a labour job with the City of Waterloo, mostly ditch digging. When he turned 22, Phil decided perhaps school wasn't so bad after all.

Phil completed a degree in civil engineering at the University of Waterloo and became a professional engineer, starting his career at Stantec then moving on to the City of Waterloo. At the time of his death at age 48 on Oct. 14 from a suspected cardiac arrest, he was director of water services.

Having worked quite literally in the trenches for the city, Phil was cognizant of what it was like for staff to follow an engineer's plans. What worked on paper didn't necessarily work in real life.

Rick joked "he remembered the stupid things engineers did and he tried not to do that."

Through his university years, Phil had not kept up with his music but his sister said that about a decade ago he starting thinking that if he had children he needed to be a role model when his own kids took music lessons. So he picked up the violin again, studying under violinist/composer Jeff Enns.

In high school, Phil had played in the band and he performed a violin solo in the school's production of "Camelot" but as an adult, he mostly entertained at family functions.

Described by friends as "one of the best" Phil was always the guy who treated everyone the same, whether it was a janitor or a manager and he had a way of making you feel you were the most important person in the room.

His siblings said Phil was a real people person and in fact, during his engineering co-op program he inadvertently applied for a customer service job with a computer support company. Oddly the company hired him because he was good at connecting with people and he understood technology.

Phil met high school teacher Heather Godwin through mutual friends and they married in August 2005. The couple had two children, Max and Emma, now nine and seven years old.

Phil loved being a dad. In fact he just loved kids. Nieces and nephews could do pretty much anything to him, he was infinitely patient. Phil was the uncle everyone went to for advice or help.

Among his friends, Phil was the glue, the one who brought everyone together, embracing friendships dating back to elementary school. Phil valued people, regardless of their social status.

"It didn't matter who Phil connected with, to him people were people," said his sister.

His parents, Herb and Barbara died in2013 and 2015, respectively and the farm was sold, the old house torn down.

Heather said "it was a significant place to grow up."

The Quickfall homestead was an enriching place and helped formed the man Phil would become, rooted to his community, embraced by his family.

Eby, Ezra E. (1895). A biographical history of Waterloo township and other townships of the county: being a history of the early settlers and their descendants, mostly all of Pennsylvania Dutch origin: as also much other unpublished historical information chiefly of a local character. Berlin [Kitchener, Ont.]: [s.n.].

"Ice-Harvesting in Victoria Park" by rych mills:

"Born in 1878 in Bridgeport, A.C. Quickfall was still a young man in 1904 but a most experienced entrepreneur. While attending business college in Berlin, he had taken over his father Richard's Waterloo Township brickyard, made a success of that, tired of it, then met Collard. (Note: previously in article covers Collard) Two men, each weary of his current occupation.What better solution than to swap? Collard took the brickyard: Quickfall, the ice-harvesting. Collard later became Berlin's Inspector of Pavements. Quickfall, for the next two decades was one of Berlin's best-known businessmen.

At a Park Board meeting on April 1, 1905, the transfer of the remainder of Collard's 10-year lease to Quickfall was approved; he was on his way to leaving a mark on Victoria Park and vicinity. the years 1905-10 were building ones for A. C. Quickfall. In the 1906 Semi-Centennial Number of the Chronicle-Telegraph, he was listed among Berlin's prominent men:'...Victoria Ice: 2 words that stand out in large letters on the huge delivery wagons of A.C. Quickfall who does his share in keeping down temperatures on hot sultry days...besides his ice-business, Quickfall makes a specialty of cement bricks, window and door sills, etc...also being the owner of a splendid sand pit within the corporation limits...he has also found time to build several homes since taking up residence on David Street.'

As winters came and went, Collard's 10-year lease drew to a close. The Berlin Park Board did a quick two-step with the ice-contract. In April 1909, they advertised for tenders for a five or 10-year term. Quickfall had his application ready, but the Park Board decided to take no action until the original term expired in 1910. A week later they rescinded that motion, accepted Quickfall's new application, but did nothing until a year later, April 15, 1910. Then, finally, Quickfall had his own 5-year deal to harvest the ice at a cost of $150 per year. He also acquired a lot of problems.

Health Hazard Revealed

Victoria Park lake is an artificial one. The two streams which feed it were never strong-flowing, never full of fresh sparkling water. From the earliest days, all kinds of refuse ended up settling in the park lake. Some homes and industries had illegal hook-ups, venting their sewers directly into storm drains which had a habit of overflowing, dumping almost anything into the lake. Upstream butcher shops were fined numerous times for throwing offal into the streams. Nearby was the Berlin Glue Factory and the imagination boggles at what type of refuse came out of that plant!

In 1911, Victoria Park lake was 17 years old and the 'piper had to be paid.'

The Provincial Laboratory analysed samples of lake water and immediately condemned it. The Berlin Board of Health went further and said the lake itself was hazardous. In Dec. 1911, it declared the health of Berlin's citizens was more important than $150 in ice income. By late Jan. 1912, Dr. McCullough, the Provincial Health Officer, absolutely forbad the sale of Victoria Park ice for any purpose. Quickfall's solicitors argued, to no avail, that ice frozen for weeks is nearly pure. By a series of miscommunications with the Park Board, Quickfall had already cut and stored hundreds of tons of ice. It all had to be scrapped. The same sad tale held in 1913, 1914 and 1915.

Quickfall did get his $150 fee back each year, but one wonders at his enthusiasm for requesting another five-year deal in late 1916. He agreed to pay $200 a year for two years, then $250, as well as build a new ice storage house farther away from David Street. The original ice-house which Collard had built in 1900 was an ugly building and residents often complained about it. Back in 1913, Quickfall had removed the front portion of that building and constructed a lovely large home overlooking the park; 101 David still stands and it's interesting to note that A.C.'s wife Edith (nee Shoemaker) designed and planned this unique home, incorporating many imaginative features. This house is still a focal point of David Street; it was also the focal point for the next 12 years of the Quickfall business empire.

Following Collard's tower-and-slide problems across David Street, several methods were used to get ice from the lake to the storage house. People would buy their ice in winter from Quickfall's shoreline cutting operation and haul it away in their own wagons. Teams of Quickfall horses were busy day after day hauling the cut blocks of ice across the parklawns, over David Street and into the ice storage house behind 101 David Street. There people could buy ice at any time of the year and Quickfall horses and drays would deliver. For a couple of winters in the early 20s,Quickfall tried floating the ice-blocks over the floodgate, under David Street, then hauling them out near the storage house.

Following his 1916 renewal, ice-pollution problems eased but others cropped up. The Park Board and Quickfall never really got in sync. One or the other often had a complaint about costs or protection or late payments or repairing damage. In Feb. 1916, a young girl ventured too close to the cutting area and almost drowned. Walter A. Bean, who grew upon Roland Street, recalls his father's daily path across the ice on his way to work as editor of the Daily Telegraph. One evening David apparently forgot exactly where the cutters had been working, and in the darkness, took a chilly dip in seven feet of water.

In Feb. 1918, trouble of another kind threatened the ice-harvesting and other Quickfall enterprises. One of the worst-ever winter rainstorms put the entire park under water. David Street was two feet deep and rising.Quickfall's stables were in danger and the horses had to be moved quickly. By the time the water had receded much of the winter's ice-harvest was ruined.

Pressures Herald the End

The criticism about ice-cutting from skaters hadn't abated in all the years. Many felt the public would be better served by having the entire surface reserved for skating. By this time the Park Board regularly cleared the snow, had change-rooms and lights available, and called in the fire department from time-to-time to flood the surface.

Local theatre-owner A.P. Berberich had an interesting idea in 1919. He proposed flooding the baseball field in the athletic grounds and using that area for skating while the entire lake was harvested for ice. Nothing came of that suggestion. Later that same year Quickfall was cutting 24-inch thick crystal-clear ice from the lake, some of the best ever.

In 1921, Quickfall's latest five-year term expired and it looked as if there would be no renewal. Park Board member W.O. Knechtel declared ice-cutting wrecked the use of Victoria Park for winter sports. He felt the damage to lawns and drives exceeded the $250 paid by Quickfall. In the end, the Park Board did renew the ice-cutting rights, increasing the cost to $350, but forbidding Quickfall from selling in the park, thus reducing wear and tear on the lawns.

Through the 1920s, Quickfall's other business expanded, though ice stillmade his name. Each year the Park Board pondered eliminating theice-harvest but ended up giving Quickfall one more season. Other forces,however, were at work.

In the prosperous post-war 20s, electricity crept more and more into peoples' lives. Electricity not only provided much simpler home refrigeration, it also meant absolutely pure block-ice could be made artificially at such plants as Silverwoods on Courtland Avenue. Even those who wanted to continue using their ice-boxes were hard-pressed to decide on taking possibly polluted natural ice when pure was so easilyobtained.

Just as ice meant Quickfall, so too, Quickfall meant ice. When Albert Charles Quickfall died prematurely at age 50 in 1927, ice-harvesting in Victoria Park did not long outlast him.

Today there is little evidence of the ice-harvesting business in Victoria Park. The 1916 ice storage house was torn down in the 1930s. A later brick storage building built by Quickfall nearby lasted until the Schneider Creek realignment in 1984. That same development saw two Quickfall houses, numbers 113 and 117, torn down on David Street. Number 101, built in 1913, continues to overlook Victoria Park. To many are aresidents it's still known as The Quickfall House 35 years after the family sold it, and nearly 70 years after one of Berlin/Kitchener's early, and most interesting, businessmen died.

Eileen Dahms of Guelph, one of several surviving children of A.C. Quickfall recalls her childhood years at 101. There are many good memories but she especially remembers summertime when the place was a hive of business ctivity with horses hauling heavy drays in and out of the driveway. Her girlhood summers were spent answering the phone, taking orders for home delivery of Victoria ice. Dorothy Russell, a resident of Schneider Avenue since 1901, recalls the old tower-slide set-up stretching across David Street and the steady flow of ice blocks. J. Edward Snyder of Kitchener still savors thoughts of those hot summer days when he and his pals would slip into the ice-house for a cooling off.

So, ice-harvesting in Victoria Park is long gone, and definitely not on the way back! Memories, though, do remain. It's always good to remind oneself, when the modern fridge door is opened and a cool one beckons, how much effort it took just 80 years ago for the same pleasure. In someways, today is the Good Old Days."
